Bucking the Trend in New York

IN LATE SEPTEMBER, The Jockey Club released its annual report of breeding statistics. I am reminded, as I am every year at this time, not only of the value of this important report but also of its potential to be misunderstood when we are thinking about the foal crop in New York. I think, however, if you take a close look at the national and regional picture with me, you will appreciate what you see.

The number of live North American foals reported to The Jockey Club by the traditional cutoff date (Sept. 9) was 21,697, or down 1.4 percent from 2013. Estimating that this number is approximately 90% of the total, The Jockey Club projects a 2014 foal crop of 22,000.

This requires a look at the bigger picture. In 2004 the total North American foal crop was 37,949; in 2009 the number was 29,589. It's no secret the Thoroughbred population has shrunk dramatically in the last decade, which, as you know, has affected every sector of our industry, from breeding farms to auctions to the racetrack.

As we start to look at the way New York fits into this picture, care is needed. The breeding statistics provided annually by The Jockey Club for individual states do not reflect live foals born in each state (i.e. the New York-bred foal population), but the live foals conceived in each state (essentially, the New York-sired, New York-bred population).

Bearing that in mind, this year's live foal report shows that five states posted an increase in the number of live foals this year by conception area, led by New York and New Mexico, which were both up 5.6%. Specifically, 1,025 New York-sired foals were reported this year, compared to 971 in 2013. This is not only good news in its own right but means that the population of New York-sired foals continued to build on the truly phenomenal increase of 36.2% in 2013 year over 2012 (713).

So, the population of New York-sired foals appears to be thriving, but what can we tell about the 2014 foal crop, when it is too early to get any definitive numbers from the New York Thoroughbred Breeding & Development Fund Registry? Over the last 10 years the percentage of New York-sired foals has fluctuated, but within definable limits, averaging 60% New York-sired to 40% out-of-state sired. On that basis I will provisionally project New York's 2014 foal crop to fall within 1,550 to 1,600.

According to the registry kept by the New York Thoroughbred Breeding & Development Fund this number would represent the third year in a row that the state's foal crop has increased, from a 10-year low of 1,225 in 2011 to 1,495 in 2012 to 1,534 in 2013. In other words, during the period from 2011-14, if the projections for 2014 bear out, the New York foal crop will have increased 30.6% while the North American foal crop will have dipped 13.7%.

This is not only encouraging news for the New York-breeding and racing industry, but an extraordinary achievement for the program. We see the results in concrete ways from day-to-day: another record-breaking Fasig-Tipton New York-bred yearling sale in August, the addition of a second day and yearlings to the upcoming Fasig-Tipton October mixed sale, now in just its third year, and continued robust field size in New York-bred races on the New York Racing Association circuit. All of these achievements are to be traced ultimately to the hard work of New York breeders. So, I salute you as the numbers once again illustrate all that you continue to do for the program. 🏇

Livingston

Now, having watched Simmard's first foals grow and develop into strong, smart weanlings with an impressive likeness to their sire, we are more sure than ever that Simmard's genetic wealth is truly a force to be reckoned with. His stunning first crop is a result of pairing with notable mares that carry the bloodlines of NIJINSKY II and PRINCE JOHN, a leading son of the great PRICEQUILLO. Simmard is also expected to excel when crossed with GONE WEST daughters that have NIJINSKY II. Anything can happen... just remember UNION RAGS.

Look for details about our new breeding program in next month's issue!

A ROYAL PEDIGREE THAT, ONCE AGAIN, will prove that HIS FEMALE AND MALE LINES have the power to extend to future generations. SIMMARD is now proving to us that he can and will produce FAST offspring - he is delivering the kind of speed and stamina that we all look for.

NEW YORK-BREDS WITH BREEDERS' CUP BIDS

The New York-bred program had its breakthrough moment at last year's Breeders' Cup World Championships when the Chris and Patricia Purdy-bred London Town became the first Empire State-bred to win a Breeders' Cup race. This year there is the potential for the floodgates to open as several state-breds are not only pointing toward the Oct. 31-Nov. 1 Breeders' Cup at Santa Anita Park but are headlining their divisions.

Chester and Mary Broman's homebred Artemis Agrotera rallied from more than nine lengths off the pace Sept. 20 to win the Gallant Bloom Handicap (gr. II) at Belmont Park. The win, as the 2-5 favorite going 6½ furlongs, follows her scintillating 6½-length win at Saratoga in the Ballerina Stakes (gr. I), putting her atop the filly and mare sprint division and stamping her as a strong candidate for the DraftKings Breeders' Cup Filly & Mare Sprint (gr. I). Last year Artemis Agrotera was fifth in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies (gr. I) as the second choice.

Palace has emerged this summer as the best male sprinter on the East Coast with back-to-back grade I wins at Saratoga in the Aug. 2 Alfred G. Vanderbilt Handicap and Aug. 30 Forego Stakes. Bred by the Peter J. Callahan Revocable Trust, the 5-year-old bay horse races for Antonino Miuccio and trainer Linda Rice. The hard-charging son of City Zip also won the True North Stakes (gr. II) and has earned $1,279,550 since being claimed for $20,000 in October 2012. He should be primed for a run at the Xpressbet Breeders' Cup Sprint (gr. I).

The Breeders' Cup Juvenile Turf (gr. IT) could be headed by Klaravich Stables and William H. Lawrence's Startup Nation, a strong winner of Saratoga's With Anticipation Stakes (gr. IIT). From the first crop of Spendthrift Farm sire Temple City, Startup Nation topped Ken and Sarah Ramsey's Chief Kitten in their Aug. 7 debuts on the turf, and Chief Kitten came back to break his maiden impressively in early September.

The Mrs. Gerald A. Nielsen-bred, Ralph Evans-owned Upstart could be a player in the Sentient Jet Breeders' Cup Juvenile (gr. I) based on his two wins over state-breds at Saratoga. His win in the Funny Cide Stakes Aug. 24 at 6½ furlongs came in 1:16.23, and he worked a mile in 1:42.03 Sept. 22. By Flatter, Upstart is out of the Touch Gold mare Party Silks and was a $130,000 Fasig-Tipton New York preferred sale graduate.

NEW YORK-BREDS HOLD STEADY AT SEPTEMBER SALE

New York-breds selling at the Sept. 8-21 Keeneland September yearling sale held their own at the world's largest horse sale. Their performance in the auction ring seemed to be more a mirror image of the general stability of the yearling market, showing no dramatic fluctuation but holding on to the robust gains made at this venue in the previous two years.

This year 60 of 88 New York-bred yearlings offered changed hands during the 13 sessions of the sale, generating gross receipts of $4,114,100. These numbers did not match 2013 levels, but last year all three indicators had realized triple-digit gains over 2012. The bigger window shows that the numbers this year landed in the same ballpark as 2013 and remained worlds apart from the results of 2011.

This year's New York-bred average of $68,658 did not rise to the heady level of 2013 ($81,088) either, but was up slightly from 2012 ($66,338), which had posted a 50% increase over 2011. The 2014 New York-bred median of $50,000, on the other hand, hit a new high for this sale, up 11% from $45,000 in 2013 and the New York-bred median this year was identical to the median price in the general population of the sale.

The overall sale saw the number sold, gross, and average all dip slightly from 2013 figures, but it must be remembered that last year's gross, average, and median rose 27.6%, 17%, and 11.1%, respectively.

The results for the New York-bred population at Keeneland are very much in keeping with the description of the overall sale results by Keeneland vice president of sales Walt Robertson.

"The success of this sale flows from the fact that we continue to operate in a fair, realistic market," he said. "We had a significant improvement in results the last two years. Now we're seeing consistency and stability in the market."

The New York-bred Keeneland sale-topper was a Lemon Drop Kid filly bred by Gallagher's Stud who was purchased in session four of Book 1 by Blandford Bloodstock for $400,000.

BY EVAN HAMMONDS

THERE IS LITTLE DOUBT that last year's Fasig-Tipton fall mixed sale in Saratoga Springs was a big success. The second year of the resurrected sale saw its gross sale soar 74% and average rise 15.6% off the inaugural sale. The sale's third go-round figures to be bigger and better, with an enhanced catalog spilling over two days—Oct. 6-7—with the addition of 107 yearlings to the mix.

Those yearlings, along with a strong contingent of weanling offerings and some horses of racing age, figure to attract more buyers looking to add New York-breds to their portfolios.

More is better—that is for sure—but the rising tide doesn't always raise all boats. The 2013 market for broodmares at the sale was, at best, fair, and it isn't expected to leap forward this year. Last year, with a little larger catalog than 2012, the average for broodmares actually fell from $14,683 to $13,405. The yearlings should be popular, getting plenty of looks from both end-users and pinhook-

Addition of yearlings, two-day event gives breeders more options for October mixed sale

ers, but they are coming to market on the heels of the wildly successful preferred yearlings just sold in August at the Humphrey S. Finney sale pavilion.

At the Aug. 9-10 yearling sale, 176 of the 272 yearlings offered sold for $14,099,000, an average of $80,108—up 10.5%—and a median of $65,000—up 18.2%. Those numbers rose significantly from last year's wildly successful sale where 196 yearlings sold for $14,206,000 with an average of $72,480 and a median of $55,000.

At the upper end of the spectrum, at the Keeneland September yearling sale, 37 of the 53 New York-breds offered were reported as sold for $3,813,000, with an average of $103,054 and a median of $70,000.

“The New York-bred (preferred) sale

this year continued to show growth in the New York-bred program,” said Boyd Browning, president and CEO of Fasig-Tipton. “But it is important to note the marketplace continues to show a lot of selectivity. The real growth is in the quality offerings. It's not complete, across-the-board growth where everything is more desirable in 2014 than it was in the past.”

Becky Thomas of Sequel Stallions of New York said: “I've been a strong proponent of having a place for New York

Weanling-To-Yearling Pinhooking From F-T Fall Sale To F-T Preferred Yearling Sale

Year	Weanlings Purchased	Average	Sold at FTN	Gross	Average
2013	23	$27,935	15	$980,000	$65,333
2012	17	$24,618	13	$999,000	$76,846

breeders to sell open yearlings. I'm grateful to Fasig-Tipton to add that because telling someone their horse isn't good enough (for the preferred sale), and then, 'Hey, by the way, spend another $2,500 to go to Maryland or Kentucky to sell it'...that's just not any way for the program to grow."

Even with that tempered enthusiasm, the fact there are 107 yearlings to sell in October off those two sales "shows how far the program has progressed in recent years," said Jeff Cannizzo, president of New York Thoroughbred Breeders. "I'm hearing major buyers and major representation will be here for the sale for probably the first time. Hopefully, that will drive some of the market."

That market, hopefully, will draw more local and outside pinhookers to the sale, providing a deeper bench of potential buyers.

"I feel that those people who are there looking at weanlings will broaden their horizon and look at the yearlings as well," said bloodstock agent and consignor Harry Landry. "Any of those Florida pinhookers that come up...they're open to anything they think they can make money with."

Those shoppers will find yearlings by a good selection of outside sires and deeper casts by some of the leading local stallions including leading sire Bluegrass Cat, Bustin Stones, Freud, Girolamo, Noonmark, and Posse.

"The good ones—the ones buyers perceive as being good physicals—will sell well and the less desirables will struggle whether they're by a New York-based sire, Kentucky-based sire, or any other sire," Browning said.

Last year the market was driven by the weanling market, which saw its average bolt 30.1% from $16,256 to $21,151.

And a lot of those weanlings are being pinhooked into the following year's preferred yearling sale. Over the last two years 40 weanlings have been purchased—at an average price of $26,525—at the fall mixed sale that made their way back to the sale grounds the following August. In 2013 those yearlings averaged $76,846 and this year

This year's fall mixed sale has a two-day format and includes 107 yearlings the average was $66,333. At the August sale a Super Saver—That's Ok, by Not For Love, went to Hubert Guy Bloodstock for $230,000 from Baccari Bloodstock, agent, after being a $50,000 purchase by Jumping Jack Racing from Vinery Sales/Millennium Farms, agent.

"The market for weanlings is going to be strong," said Landry. "The people selling weanlings are probably going to be in pretty good shape if they have a good individual. With purses like they are and the amount of money available in the 2-year-old program, there certainly should be a demand for these guys."

As for the broodmare market, there is opportunity.

"There are some opportunities for people who buy attractive mares that are capable of producing an expensive weanling or yearling that can be successful on the racetrack in both the New York-bred program or open company," Browning said.

Landry noted broodmares "have not been a very hot item for this particular sale, but I'm hoping there are people there looking, and they should be. At this point it looks like we're short on the factory end (broodmares). I believe people need to upgrade their mares in New York to compete with those coming in from out of state so we can keep that money here in New York."

And the money in New York is good, and having more options of selling New York-bred horses in New York is good.

"It's exciting that New York breeders have another outlet to sell here instead of having to ship and sell in a market outside of the state," Cannizzo said. 🐾

Jeff Treadway studies the game, finds his way to the winner's circle

A NEW YORKER BY way of Texas and Kentucky, Jeff Treadway bought his first horse at auction in 2009. A $90,000 2-year-old in training purchase, Thunder Chief, a New York-bred by Thunder Gulch out of the Gilded Time mare Miss Yiayia, earned $48,130 in six races that year, finishing second twice before breaking his maiden in his fifth start. Not, perhaps, brilliant success, but enough to send Treadway back to the sales the next year.

He's not a man who discourages easily, a characteristic that has served him well in those first few years as a Thoroughbred owner. He purchased four horses over the course of the next two years, three of them 2-year-olds; his small stable went winless in 2010, notching three seconds and three thirds, earning $48,492, an increase of $362 over the prior year.

"It felt like a struggle," Treadway admitted this summer at Saratoga.

But rather than throwing in the towel, Treadway dug in.

By 2014 Treadway would be in the winner's circle with Sweet Reason, a two-time grade I winner this summer; Jerome Stakes (gr. II) winner Noble Moon; and with Wonder Gal, an exciting New York-bred 2-year-old filly who won the Lynbrook Stakes by 14½ lengths and was third in the Adirondack Stakes (gr. II) at Saratoga.

Originally from Fort Worth, Texas, Treadway moved to Kentucky as a child, attending junior high school in Lexington; after his family moved back to Texas, Treadway returned to Kentucky to attend Eastern Kentucky University, where he studied finance and economics.

"And we went to Keeneland plenty," he said with a smile. "We certainly studied the horses to some extent."

His first involvement with racing as an owner came with Sea Horse Stables in New Jersey. Part-owner of a broodmare, he helped choose the sires to breed her to, an endeavor that piqued his interest in bloodlines.

"It wasn't a great amount of success," he said, "but it was a great group of people, and it was fun.”

When Treadway decided to purchase horses on his own, Sea Horse's Felice Busto introduced him to Leah Gyarmati, who had been training in New York since 1999, her profile mostly low and local despite a reputation as a good horsewoman.

Their first venture was at the Fasig-Tipton Midlantic sale in May of 2009, which is where they purchased Thunder Chief. Despite his relatively recent entry into the industry, Treadway employs no bloodstock agent or racing manager; he does his homework, researching pedigrees and bloodlines.

“That’s kind of my passion,” he said, standing in the clubhouse at Saratoga on the last weekend of the meet. “Obviously it’s more art than science, but we try to pick the best pedigree for our budget. Everybody can see the War Fronts out of a grade I winning mare—though that doesn’t always work out, either. Some of it is physicality, but I love looking at the pedigrees and trying to figure out something that’s interesting.”

“The joy of it is looking at the pedigrees, going to the sales, trying to pick the right spots for the horse, which Leah is instrumental in as well. If I weren’t doing that, I’d want to be doing it for somebody else. Luckily, I have the time to do it.”

Oil commodities trading brought Treadway to New York 24 years ago; he left his job two years ago to focus on his own investments, equine and otherwise. He lives in Williamsburg in Brooklyn with his wife, Sivan, and 7-year-old stepdaughter Eve, and he currently owns about 20 horses, including stable star Sweet Reason, Noble Moon, and Wonder Gal.

Treadway purchased the yearling Street Sense filly out of Livermore Leslie (by Whitesburg Express) for $185,000 at the Keeneland September sale in 2012, the year Treadway stopped dipping his toe into horse racing and jumped into the deep end, purchasing seven horses for $980,000.

Sweet Reason's Spinaway was Treadway's first stakes win and Gyarmati's first graded stakes victory; standing in the winner's circle at Saratoga, Treadway deflected all attention to her.

“She deserves it,” he said. “She did the heavy lifting.”

“She’s dealt with my disappointment over the years,” he continued that day. “She sticks in there, and there’s never any disappointment in her face. She’s been terrific, and she deserves this.”

After a second-place finish in the Friezette Stakes (gr. I) at Belmont last October, Sweet Reason was the 5-2 favorite in the Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies (gr. I), finishing fourth. A third-place finish in the Gazelle Stakes (gr. II) in April put an end to thoughts of running in the Longines Kentucky Oaks (gr. I), but cut back in distance, the bay filly padded her résumé with two more grade I victories: the one-mile TVG Acorn Stakes on the Belmont Stakes undercard and the seven-furlong Test Stakes at Saratoga.

“To win (the Test) is unbelievable,” Treadway said following the filly's win. “The Acorn was a validation of her talent, but she’s just getting better race by race. This is the pinnacle of a great year, because we won last year at about this time. It’s amazing.”

Sweet Reason ran second to Untapable in the $1 million Cottillion Stakes (gr. I) Sept. 20 at Parx.

Another of Treadway's 2012 purchases was Noble Moon (Malibu Moon—Mambo Bell, by Kingmambo). Like his stablemate, he broke his maiden at first asking at Belmont last summer; like his stablemate, he quickly made the move to stakes company, finishing second in the Nashua Stakes (gr. II) at Aqueduct and winning the Jerome Stakes (gr. II) to kick off his sophomore season.

“We bought him at the same sale (as Sweet Reason),” said Treadway, “so that was quite a magical two days for us.”

A familiar sighting in 2014: Treadway, right, leading Sweet Reason to the winner's circle

Treadway's Wonder Gal winning the Lynbrook Stakes in July

"That year we spent more money," he went on, "and we've upgraded quality over the years—we kind of went for it a little bit more. But you never know. Even if you spend a little bit more, it's less than a lot of other people, and to find that one horse, to get that diamond in the rough—you just never think you'll do that."

New York-bred Wonder Gal (Tiz Wonderful—Passe, by Dixie Union), purchased as a 2-year-old in March of this year for $210,000. After breaking her maiden by 14½ lengths in her debut in the Lynbrook at Belmont in July, she hit the board in the Adirondack at the Spa and will make her next start in the Frizette in early October. Another grade I victory for a Treadway starter will make more than her owner happy.

During every conversation, Treadway steers talk of his success back to Gyarmati.

"I've been in the business for five years or so," he said. "She's been in it for so long, and unless you're one of the top five or 10 trainers, life can be a real struggle to make it. I know she's thought at times about moving on to different things, and so for her to get that one good horse—there are so many good trainers out there that never get it."

He has fielded multiple offers for Sweet Reason, declining them all. He considered one after the Spinaway last year, but rejected selling the filly outright, wanting to retain a share of her. He also questioned the wisdom of removing Sweet Reason from the trainer who had made her a grade I winner.

"It seems crazy and patently unfair," he said frankly. "Why would you take a filly away from a barn like that? I mean, there's loyalty. People who are talented and doing a good job are important."

"More than anything Leah and I are friends," he went on. "We started this five years ago. We bought a horse, Thunder Chief, that's now her stable pony. We've upgraded the quality. She's taught me a lot about the game, and we have really good chemistry as far as picking horses at the sales."

Gyarmati is equally effusive in her praise of Treadway.

"He's just a lot of fun to be around," she said, standing in the shedrow of her barn at Belmont Park. "We have fun talking about the horses, but it's not just about the horses. The whole process is fun. He's the owner and it's his money, but I think it's still a partnership in terms of how we feel about what horses we're going to look at and what horses we're going to select."

Treadway Racing Stable has 12 wins and another 12 second- and third-place finishes, for $1.3 million in earnings in 2014. He's working on developing his stable, branching out into turf horses, and he's concentrating on building a small broodmare band of his own. Well Kept, a multiple stakes-placed daughter of Henny Hughes that Treadway raced for three years, is in foal to Street Sense in upstate New York.

"It takes on a little bit of a life of its own, and if you're really passionate about it," he said, "then it's hard to stay too small. Having said that, I don't want it to get too big, either."

His current stable size, he said, "feels comfortable."

Less comfortable, though, is a sense of instability with regard to video lottery terminal revenue from the casino at Aqueduct.

"With the breeders' awards in New York, breeding is very lucrative," he said. "A lot of people have made big investments in New York breeding, and it would be good to have some confirmation that things will stay as they are."

"I think it's critical that we make our message known to the political forces that be because it's a business that's really about the family farm in New York."

He continued, "People need to understand that it's more than just the racetrack. It's an industry that supports thousands and thousands of people and businesses and family farmers."

He gestured around him, to the crowd at Saratoga on a beautiful late-summer afternoon.

"This is important and this is great and it's beautiful, but we need some kind of commitment that these jobs will stay," he declared.

Despite his strong opinions, he's not yet ready to seek leadership roles in the industry, happy to build his racing business and enjoy his success while it lasts.

"My stepdaughter Eve attended a riding camp in Saratoga, and she likes to come to the races when we win," he said, laughing. "She likes going to the winner's circle, especially for a big race. Grade I winner's circles are her favorite."

Fortunately, her stepfather and his trainer are providing her with plenty of opportunities to do exactly that. And while Treadway is realistic about the possibilities of success in horse racing, and wary about its future in the state, he has no trouble basking in the moments that are not, these days, too few far and between.

"On a day like today," he said Aug. 2, after Sweet Reason won the Test, "horse racing is fantastic. It's joyous." 🐾

Invading Humor gets first stakes win in the Hettinger; Lubash turns tables on King Kreesa in the Cole

JAMES McGLINN'S BLOODLINES RACING Partnerships got its first stakes victory in its first stakes attempt Sept. 14, when Invading Humor won the $125,000 John Hettinger Stakes at Belmont Park.

The 4-year-old homebred daughter of Invasor out of the Distorted Humor mare Very Funny ran her winning streak to four with a one-length victory in the nine-furlong Hettinger in 1:49.47.

Racing near the lead under jockey Rajiv Maragh, the Bruce Levine trainee contested a soft pace over an inner turf course called “good,” racing with pace-setting Princess Mara as they ran the opening half in :49.37 and six furlongs in 1:13.81. She held off a mild late challenge from runner-up Strike Accord and multiple stakes winner Effie Trinket, who won the Hettinger last year.

Though the partnership is new, McGlinn has been involved in racing for more than a decade. He formed Bloodlines Racing, he said, for something of a selfish reason.

“It allows me to race more horses,” he said from his farm in Vermont. “I keep at least 50% of each horse.”

The two-year-old partnership has compiled some eye-popping numbers. Together, Invading Humor and her 3-year-old full sister Distorted Beauty have raced 17 times and won nine times with two seconds and a third. Their record this year is 7-1-1 from 10 starts.

Regardless of where he breeds his mares, McGlinn brings the foals to Vermont when they’re babies; they stay on his farm until they go off to be trained as late yearlings.

“I like to take care of them myself,” said the man whose primary business is chiropractic medicine.

McGlinn traveled to Kentucky to see Invasor (Candy Stripes—Quendom, by Interpret) in person before making the decision to breed Very Funny to him. Obviously attracted to the stallion’s championship racing career, McGlinn also likes to breed for distance.

“I thought the combination of a Distorted Humor mare and Invasor would be a good one,” he said. “I wanted to see if physically he’d fit with my mare, and I try to see if there’s any duplication of weakness she might have and avoid that.”

Given that the two fillies are Invasor’s top earners this year in the United States, McGlinn seems to have gotten it exactly right.

Very Funny, bred by Adena Springs, is out of Kris Is It, by Kris S. McGlinn bought her for $16,000 at the 2009 Keeneland January sale.

It’s Lubash’s turn

Earlier on the card, Lubash turned the tables on rival King Kreesa in the $122,500 Ashley T. Cole Stakes, getting up in the final strides under jockey Junior Alvarado to win by a neck. Kharafa was 3¼ lengths back in third in the nine-furlong race on the turf. Last month at Saratoga, King Kreesa held off Lubash to win the 1½-mile West Point Stakes by a head. The Ashley T. Cole was the sixth meeting between the two; they’ve both finished in the top three four times, completing the exacta in three races.

“It’s a great group of horses, these older New York-bred turf horses,” said Jonathan Pivnik, son of owner Leonard Pivnik, who races in the name of Aliyu Ben J Stables.

The homebred by Freud out of the Cure the Blues mare Nasty Cure sat last through much of the race behind a faster pace than the West Point, which, said the younger Pivnik, might have made the difference. Splitting horses in the stretch, Lubash and Alvarado made up ground quickly, stopping the timer in 1:47.83.

Leonard Pivnik, who has attended all but one of Lubash’s 37 starts, bought his first horse in the early 1990s. Among his early purchases was Lubash’s dam Nasty Cure, purchased for $37,000. The win in the Ashley T. Cole pushed the 7-year-old

Lubash gets the measure of King Kreesa...this time; below, Leonard Pivak (Yankees cap) and Jesus Andre Torres

Lubash’s earnings to more than $910,000 with 11 wins (seven stakes wins), eight seconds, and four thirds.

Lubash has two half siblings that together have earned more than $500,000, and Pivnik has a 2-year-old full sister in training on a farm near Ocala, Fla. If genetics are on his side, that sister will inherit what Jonathan Pivnik sees as Lubash’s greatest asset.

“He always runs,” said Jonathan. “He tries every single time you put him on the track. It’s the best thing about him.” 🐾

THE NEW YORK STATE breeding program has a strong group of juveniles based on the results of Sept. 21 at Belmont Park where a pair of $150,000 prep races for the $250,000 Sleepy Hollow Stakes (2-year-olds) and Maid of the Mist Stakes (2-year-old fillies) took place. The Sleepy Hollow and Maid of the Mist are part of the New York-bred Showcase Day Oct. 18.

Trainer Lisa Lewis, who had been training privately for William Schettine, has returned to running a public stable. Among her first new acquisitions was the talented Saratoga Heater, whom she sent out to victory in the Bertram F. Bongard Stakes for P.R. Racing.

“I was training privately for five years, but (Mr. Schettine) is cutting back a little bit,” Lewis said. “I just wanted the opportunity to have more young horses. For me, that’s where it’s at, trying to get a good, young horse. So here we are.”

Temper Mint Patty, by Congrats, wins the Joseph A. Gimma

rocketed to the lead and led the field of six runners throughout, recording a four-length victory beneath jockey Joel Rosario over a muddy main oval.

Co-owner Porter Trimble was infinitely pleased with the outing and his group's purchase of the colt.

"We bought him at Ocala (Ocala Breeders' Sales Co.'s April sale for $100,000) back in the spring. We liked the looks of him. He's as solid a horse as I've ever seen," said Trimble. "Temple City is going to be a good sire. That's what we went on here—the breeding."

Temple City is also the sire of New York-bred 2-year-old Startup Nation, winner of the With Anticipation Stakes (gr. IIT) at Saratoga.

Bred by Carrie and Craig Brogden's Machmer Hall, Saratoga Heater covered the seven-furlong distance in 1:24.63. It was the colt's second win in three outings, as he increased his earnings to $134,287.

Gary Barber's Bullheaded Boy, a Todd Pletcher-trainee, was the runner-up in the Bertram F. Bongard while Klaravich Stables and William Lawrence's Market Conduct garnered the minor spoils, finishing third.

Mint State

Mark Stanley's Temper Mint Patty blew away a field of four other fillies in the Joseph A. Gimma Stakes at the same trip. Her 13½-length victory was so visually impressive and professional that Stanley is already dreaming of visiting Kentucky in May.

"I thought in her first race she showed a lot of talent (a rallying victory at Saratoga Aug. 29). But I think she's matured very quickly (here in her second outing) in just three weeks. Hopefully, between now and the first Friday in May (the date of the Kentucky Oaks, gr. I) she'll be even better," said Stanley.

Trained by Dale Romans, the daughter of Congrats, out of the Adcat mare His Beauty, relished the muddy surface, putting in an eye-catching surge to the lead through an opening along the rail as the field turned for home. Then, Temper Mint Patty quickly drew off beneath jockey Irad Ortiz Jr. in upper stretch, leaving the final furlong a forgone conclusion.

"I like (her sire) Congrats a lot. I think he's very underrated. The main thing is, Becky Thomas, who put this filly in the 2-year-old sale (Fasig-Tipton Florida March), had a lot of confidence in her and actually bought her back in the sale (for $95,000)," said Stanley. "I went and talked to (Becky Thomas) afterward, and she was high on (the filly). She's a pretty filly and we felt like she was worth the money."

Bred by Gallagher's Stud, Temper Mint Patty, who is now two-for-two in her brief career, got the seven furlongs in 1:23.78—.85 of a second faster than the boys in the Bongard just two races earlier on the card. The victory boosted her earnings to $133,800.

R.A. Hill Stable's My Super Nova, a daughter of Super Saver, from the barn of trainer George Weaver, finished second in the Joseph A. Gimma. Chester and Mary Broman's Hard to Stay Notgo checked in third. 🐾

Affirmed Success winning the Carter Handicap as an 8-year-old in 2002

ADAM COGLIANESE/NYRA PHOTOS

Adopted New Yorker Affirmed Success had a remarkable run

BY STEVE HASKIN

IN THE WORLD OF New York-breds, consider Affirmed Success an adopted son. Now 20 and living a happy life at Old Friends near Georgetown, Ky., the son of Affirmed became so synonymous with New York for so many years, people forget he was bred in Kentucky.

Under the care of trainer Richard Schosberg, Affirmed Success, bred and owned by Albert Fried Jr., was one of the soundest and most dependable horses seen in New York in many years. Of his 42 career starts, 34 were at Aqueduct, Belmont, Saratoga, or Finger Lakes.

Few horses have maintained their form in graded stakes company on dirt longer than Affirmed Success, who, after finishing third in the Jim Dandy Stakes (gr. II) at 3, won graded stakes at every year from ages 4 through 9.

In one of the more amazing statistics ever compiled, he ran a triple-digit Beyer Speed Figure in 38 of his 42 starts, including a 120 in the grade II Forego Handicap and a 119 in the grade I Vosburgh Stakes. Perhaps even more amazing was a 110 Beyer in winning the Toboggan Handicap (gr. III) as a 9-year-old.

To demonstrate his versatility, he won on fast, sloppy, and muddy dirt tracks and firm and good turf courses. He won from six furlongs to a mile on dirt and at 1 $\frac{1}{16}$ miles on grass. He finished in the money in 23 of 29 starts on a fast dirt track, in four of five starts on a wet dirt track, and in six of eight starts on the grass. In addition, he was fourth, beaten a neck, in the Breeders' Cup Mile (gr. IT) and twice was fourth in the Metropolitan Handicap (gr. I).

He also showed his longevity by competing in four Breeders' Cups—the Mile twice and the Sprint (gr. I) twice.

In short, this remarkable gelding was as close to a pure running machine as any other horse in memory. And you would be hard-pressed to find a horse that demonstrated his or her speed and class on dirt for such a long period.

“He certainly has a huge place in our hearts,” Schosberg said. “We’ve had some good horses and a national champion (Maria’s Mon), but he really was an amazing animal. Michael Blowen, who has him at Old Friends, said if they had graded stakes races for 20-year-olds, he’d win by 10.

“He’s been with the same paddock companions for the last five or six years; they’re joined at the hip. He’s been retired for more than 10 years and he’s still running around. It was sad when he retired, but it was time. When you can retire a horse sound, one who tried so hard every time for so many years, that’s the real cool part about training.

“I look at his past performances and I’m floored at how many times he ran over a 100 Beyer number and still was able to last that long.”

Schosberg looked back over Affirmed Success’ career and remembered having to back off and give him some time after he first arrived at his barn.

“He came in at 2 and looked like he was getting some tender shins, so I told Mr. Fried, ‘This horse has a lot of talent, but his shins are bugging him a little bit; why don’t we give him the winter off?’ Because Mr. Fried had a farm near Rhinebeck, N.Y., it was an easy call. He had come in as a gelding already, so maybe he had some temperament issues as a young horse. He came back early in the spring of his 3-year-old year, which was ’97, and you could tell right from the onset what kind of talent he had. If we could harness his energy and teach him how to relax a little bit, the raw talent was there.”

Affirmed Success won 10 stakes with nine of them coming at New York Racing Association tracks

Affirmed Success demonstrated his natural talent from the start when he broke slowly in his career debut at six furlongs on May 11, 1997, rushed up between horses after a quarter of a mile, and drew off in the stretch to win by three lengths in a sharp 1:09.67, earning his first triple-digit Beyer number.

“He only ran through the field because they got out of his way and he didn’t have to run over them,” Schosberg recalled. “He was caught in the middle of the field and Jorge (Chavez) was hitting the horn and yelling, ‘Get out of the way.’ That was a real impressive race.

“After that, we gradually stepped him up in distance to seven-eighths and then a mile and a sixteenth, and he won both those races. With the talent he showed, we decided to take on the best 3-year-olds in the Jim Dandy at a mile and an eighth and he ran well to finish third (behind Awesome Again). It was a lot to ask of a horse who had run only three times and was making his first start around two turns. But being he was by Affirmed, we figured he could carry his speed over a route of ground. The next stop was the Travers Stakes (gr. I), and we wound up getting involved in a head-and-head speed duel and that was the end of his 3-year-old year right there.”

When Schosberg brought him back at 4, that’s when he proved to be a top sprinter, winning a pair of allowance races at Belmont and Saratoga. Sandwiched between those two scores were second-place finishes in the Finger Lakes Breeders’ Cup Stakes (gr. III) and Frank J. De Francis Memorial Dash Stakes (gr. II) at Laurel.

Following his seven-length allowance victory at Saratoga, Affirmed Success entered another stratosphere, romping by eight lengths in the Forego Handicap and winning the Vosburgh by 1½ lengths, both races run in under 1:22. He was now one of the leading sprinters in the country, as evidenced by his 5-2 favoritism in the Breeders’ Cup Sprint at Churchill

Pure Running Machine

Downs. But dropping back to six furlongs off a pair of seven-furlong races was not his comfort zone, being much more effective at seven panels, and he had to chase a very fast horse in Reraise through a blazing quarter in :21.08 and half in :44.27. He tired to finish sixth, but was beaten only 3½ lengths.

“Reraise was a top six-furlong horse and just got out there on the lead alone,” Schosberg said. “Our horse was a specialist at seven furlongs, and you could see the difference between his races at six furlongs and seven furlongs, especially in his races against Kelly Kip, who had his number at six furlongs, but we had his number at seven furlongs.”

Stretching out to a mile in the grade I Cigar Mile, Affirmed Success suffered a tough defeat, losing by a half-length to Sir Bear after going head and head early through a testing :45.33 half.

The following year he suffered several tough defeats, finishing second to the lightning-fast Artax in the seven-furlong Carter Handicap (gr. I) run in a blistering 1:20.04. He was compromised in the Met Mile, battling on the lead through a :44.64 half before finishing fourth, and then finished a close second in the Tom Fool (gr. II) and Forego handicaps before turning in an uncharacteristically poor effort in the Breeders’ Cup Sprint at Gulfstream Park. But he ended the year on a high note, romping by five lengths back in New York in the Cigar Mile Handicap in 1:34.18.

After beginning 2000 with a victory in the grade II General George Handicap at Laurel and a close third in the Carter Handicap, it was time to try the grass.

“At some point we were going to have to try the grass, and the first time we tried him it was going a mile (in the grade III Poker Handicap),” Schosberg said. “We figured we can’t win the Breeders’ Cup Sprint at six furlongs, let’s try him in the Breeders’ Cup Mile, and we wound up running in races like the Poker, (Can-I) Atto Mile (now the Ricoh Woodbine Mile), and the Kelso Handicap (gr. IIT) so we could try to make the Breeders’ Cup Mile. I thought he came up to that Breeders’ Cup great. It was at Churchill Downs, and we wound up on the short end of a four-horse blanket finish, with War Chant getting up in the final strides. I thought for sure he had finished second, but he just got nosed out.”

He then tried the Cigar Mile again and finished third, beaten two lengths by El Corredor. The following year he followed pretty much the same path but did win the Jaipur Handicap when they took the race off the grass, and then won the Poker and was beaten a nose in the Atto Mile in a blazing 1:32.79, but he seemed to go off form and was beaten in the Breeders' Cup Mile at Belmont Park and the Cigar Mile.

But back again he came at age 8, now being ridden regularly by Richie Migliore. He won the Toboggan and followed that up with a victory in the Carter Handicap, making him a grade I winner at age 8.

"He and Richie got along great," Schosberg said. "Richie protected him and made sure he stayed out of trouble. For him to win the Toboggan and then come back and win the grade I Carter at age 8 was really phenomenal. It was the third grade I of his career. It's one thing when you see grass horses staying around that long and still being competitive on top company, but sprinters and milers run so hard and so fast, you don't expect them to stay sound for that long.

"Then he won the Toboggan at 9 and we tried the Carter again, but that was asking too much of him and we decided that was it, so we retired him. He really never had any major physical issues at all. Honestly, he had hard campaigns but they were short. We always gave him plenty of time to recover. He never had any surgeries, and to tell you the truth I don't even remember X-raying him more than a couple of times in his entire career. He was sound, he loved that game, and was very intelligent. He still is. They love him down at Old Friends. It would be great to have him up in New York at their facility, but he's pretty attached to the horses around him and I'd hate to move him around now at age 20.

"It's funny, his nickname was 'Gator' and you would think he was a biter, but he wasn't. He'd pin his ears and look you straight in the eye, and then he'd put his ears right back up at you. He was so intelligent."

"He has the greatest disposition," he said. "Rick Schosberg must have taken really good care of him because he does not have one bad habit. And you can put him anywhere; he's a real team player."

Joyce Patci, who works at Old Friends, says one of her priorities is to "sneak off to give Affirmed Success some carrots and mints, but he's in a large area with about four other geldings."

Schosberg said it's been a team effort, from the racetrack to Old Friends. He summed up Affirmed Success' career in simple terms.

"Horses like Affirmed Success are very few and far between," he said. "And I'm not even looking for the next one because there's not going to be one." 🐾

NY-Breds Start with an Advantage ...

Not one, not two,
but THREE

Saturday, October 18th

Empire Showcase Day is the final of three days on NYRA's calendar this year strictly for NY-breds, offering six stakes races and more than $1.75 million in purses. This represents a $500,000 increase in stakes money over previous years.

Empire Classic	3&UP	$300,000	1 1/8 Miles
Empire Distaff	F&M 3&UP	$250,000	1 1/16 Miles*
Mohawk	3&UP	$200,000	1 1/16 (Turf)
Ticonderoga	F&M	$200,000	1/16 (Turf)
Sleepy Hollow	2YO	$250,000	1 Mile
Maid of the Mist	F2YO	$250,000	1 Mile
Hudson	3&UP	$150,000	6 1/2 Fur.
Iroquois	F&M 3&UP	$150,000	6 1/2 Fur.

* New in 2014

And there are MILLIONS more reasons why it PAYS to Get with the Program!

It's projected that a total of nearly $60 million in purse money and awards will be available for NY-breds in 2014.

City Zip—Stormy Winter: Barrier to Entry (236-133), f, 3yo, Belmont Park, MCL, 9/12, 6f (T), 1:9.80, $24,600.

The accompanying list reports sires of New York-bred winners in 2014, 3-year-olds and upward, of all recent North American races, except straight claiming races.

The second list reports sires of all New York-bred juvenile winners in the same time period.

The lists are presented alphabetically by sire followed by the winners dam. The name of the winner is in lightface capital letters (boldface capital letters if the win came in a stakes race), followed in parentheses by the number of current-year starters in North America for the sire and the sire's total number of individual winners in 2012, regardless of state where bred. Followed by the winners sex; age; race track; class of the race; date of the race; distance of the race, expressed in furlongs and fractions of furlongs; time of the race; first-place money earned by the winner.

Abbreviations used for the class of race are similar to those used by Equibase: Alw—allowance; Hcp—overnight handicap; names of stakes race are spelled out, with the grade of the race, when applicable, in parentheses.
