A peek at life on the far side of the tunnel

by Jeffrey A. Cannizzo, Executive Director
New York Thoroughbred Breeders Inc.

Once again, I'm pleased to be able to use this space to talk mostly about positive developments. I have an exciting update on the installation of video lottery terminals (VLTs) at Aqueduct, a preliminary sketch of what the Aqueduct racino revenues will be able to do for breeding and racing in New York, and a report on some progress in the restructuring of the New York City Off-Track Betting Corp.

Not long ago, we got the great news that Genting New York is actually accelerating the Aqueduct racino project. Shortly after transferring the required $380-million to the state for the contract, Genting informed the New York Racing Association that instead of launching the first phase of the racino with 1,600 VLTs, it will be putting 3,300 machines in operation. The target date for the completion of this first phase—the VLTs to be located on the first floor of the grandstand—is Memorial Day weekend. The remaining 1,200 VLTs will be added later on the second floor. Genting is scheduled to break ground in early November.

JEFFREY A. CANNIZZO

Almost everyone I've talked to since Genting finalized the deal wants to get some idea, in terms of dollars and cents, of what the Aqueduct facility will mean for the New York breeding and racing programs. Here's a thumbnail sketch: Based on an estimated $350 in daily revenue per machine, the 1% of the VLT revenue initially slated for the Breeding Fund should translate into approximately $6-million annually, producing about a 50% increase in money available for awards and incentives. By the third year of operation, the Fund's share will be bumped up to 1.5%.

On the racing side, NYRA initially will get 6.5% of the revenue for purses, or approximately $40-million in the first year. This will bring total available purse money for the three NYRA tracks, Belmont Park, Aqueduct, and Saratoga Race Course, to around $140-million annually, a significant boost in purses. Moreover, these revenue projections for the VLTs are extremely conservative, in that they are based on the current performance of machines operating in significantly smaller markets.

There also are two developments on the OTB front. The New York State Racing and Wagering Board has been charged by the bankruptcy court to make a determination on the timing of payments by OTBs to industry participants, including to the Fund. The wagering board solicited comments from industry stakeholders, including New York Thoroughbred Breeders Inc., and will be holding a public hearing on the matter on October 27.

NYTB's position is that New York City OTB should immediately release all monies owed the Fund that have been placed under the umbrella of "indefinite deferral" and, going forward, in accordance with the recently passed "Fund Bill," all OTBs must, by law, make statutory payments in full and on a quarterly basis.

In general, the New York City OTB restructuring is a work in progress. The labor union that represents 1,300 employees finally signed off on a plan that involves downsizing and severance payments for a significant number of employees. Also included in the plan is the transfer of the corporation's account wagering operation to the creditors, "racetracks" in lieu of current debt, and as a compensation for another part of the plan that reduces payments to tracks.

The plan now must be approved by the creditors' committee. After the creditors sign off on the plan, as must the bankruptcy court, the final obstacle will be the Legislature voting to make any necessary statute changes. The Legislature most likely won't go back into session and vote on any changes until after the election, however.

We will continue to ensure breeders' voices and needs are heard and understood throughout this process. I will, of course, keep you posted.

New York City OTB makeover advances

New York City Off-Track Betting Corp. moved closer to reorganizing its business operations in early October, when its largest union approved a deal that would eliminate more than 500 jobs and have racetracks take over its account-wagering operations.

The steps are part of a reorganization plan developed by New York City OTB President Greg Rayburn to put the state-owned, bankrupt OTB operation on a course toward profitability. Under his proposal, racetracks would take a $30-million reduction in state-mandated payments from New York City OTB.

Any deal is subject to approval by OTB's creditors' committee and U.S. Bankruptcy Court. With the blessing of Gov. David Paterson, New York City OTB filed for Chapter 9 protection from its creditors late last year. The New York Racing Association is New York City OTB's second-largest creditor, owed more than $20-million.

"It's very painful, but it is needed," said Paul Sher, vice president of DC 37 Local 2021, which represents most New York City OTB workers. Members approved the plan by a vote of 271-139 on October 6.

The 1,010-member union, which represents betting clerks, phone agents, office workers, and custodians, would be slashed in half, although most, if not all, job losses would come through attrition and severance packages rather than layoffs, Sher said.

Some elements of the reorganization plan, such as changing statutory payments, would be subject to legislative approval.

"Mr. Rayburn is working with the creditors' committee and is hoping to have something finalized by the end of [October]," said Morgan Hook, a spokesman for Paterson.

However, the biggest obstacle might be harness track owners, led by high-powered New York businessman Jeff Gural, who wants the state to rescind a 1% surcharge on video-gaming revenues.

"The extra 1% take from the state from VLT operations is uncalled for and has hurt the racing industry," said Gary Greenberg, a partner with Gural in Vernon Downs near Utica. "It makes no sense to punish private business that is struggling to grow, and one of the few groups to add jobs and revenue in New York."

Harness tracks also want more free-play gaming vouchers to be allowed at their racinos, a program that has proven successful at Gural's Tioga Downs. Free plays are an incentive designed to draw gamblers to racinos.

"The free-play voucher experiment at racinos has been very popular and successful and needs to be expanded," Greenberg said. "The state will gain much-needed revenue by [expanding free play and] allowing the tracks to grow and expand, including full casinos."

NYRA President Charles Hayward declined to comment on the proposed OTB deal while it remains in bankruptcy court. However, a merging of account-wagering operations is just one of the shared services he has called for repeatedly.

It is believed that the Thoroughbred and harness racetracks would hire an outside company to run New York City OTB's account-wagering operations, with the tracks owning the operation on a pro-rated basis based on the amount of revenue they generate.

Meanwhile, New York City OTB continues to pare its brick-and-mortar operations. Following the closure of nine betting shops in September, 55 remain open, Sher said. Most job reductions would be in the telephone-betting operations, he said.—Paul Post

Contractor hired for Aqueduct racino

Tutor Perini Corp., a large California-based construction company, has been hired by Genting New York to renovate Aqueduct into a racino.

The construction company said in a September 29 media announcement that the project will cost approximately $241-million and will begin in early November.

The publicly traded construction company, which has a civil-construction subsidiary in Peekskill, is no stranger to casino construction. It has built projects for MGM Grand and Planet Hollywood, and regularly ranks among the nation's leading hotel builders.

The Aqueduct project, to be known as Resorts World New York, will completely remake the track's grandstand into a multilevel casino with 4,500 video lottery terminals. The first phase, which will feature 3,300 of the electronic gaming devices, is scheduled to open Memorial Day weekend.

Tutor Perini said the project will include a new entrance lobby and an elevated, covered walkway connecting to the existing Aqueduct transit station. Other features of the project are improvements to the building exterior, roadways, parking lots, and landscaping.

The company said the project includes a new, multilevel parking structure with 2,100 parking spaces and direct access to the track. The parking garage also will have a bus drop-off and lobby facilities.

In all, the project will take about 18 months and will be completed in three phases, which will allow gaming to begin in 2011.

Sabini suggests loyalty initiative

John Sabini, chairman of the New York State Racing and Wagering Board, laid out in broad terms in late September an initiative to protect New York horsemen from a possible influx of out-of-state horses when Aqueduct's video lottery terminal (VLT) racino operations begin to add money to New York Racing Association purses.

"We want to make sure that people from New York that have stuck it out, waiting nine years for VLTs to happen, aren't penalized," Sabini said. "We don't want to have totally restricted racing like they do in Louisiana. We need to have a lot of open racing, particularly at Saratoga [Race Course], to attract the caliber of horses we want. But we don't want to see New York horses and horsemen shoved out the door. It's a balancing act."

At a September 21 meeting, the board amended the state's harness-racing rules to allow tracks to restrict claiming and condition races to horses that had raced the majority of their most recent races at a New York track. In essence, the board wants to give the tracks the opportunity to reward horsemen who have remained loyal to New York in recent years.

In some reported cases, New York harness horsemen have taken a back seat to out-of-state horsemen at Yonkers Raceway, which currently has the state's largest racino with 5,000 VLTs. With Aqueduct's VLTs scheduled to begin operation in 2011, the state wants to prevent similar problems at NYRA's tracks. The state might adopt the same kind of rules for the Thoroughbred industry that it approved for New York harness tracks, Sabini said.

However, such steps might not be needed because NYRA already has plenty of incentives for New York horsemen, carding more than 600 New York-bred races per year, said Rick Violette Jr., a prominent trainer, NYRA board member, and New York Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association president.

"First, I want to see the money rolling," he said. "Then we'll worry about some of the ramifications."

Violette said he is not concerned about a huge influx of horses to New York, because most large stables already have a division there.

"Most major trainers are represented from across the country, whether they're from Kentucky, Florida, or California," he said. "NYRA has a huge commitment to New York breeders, not because it's state law [but] because it's the right thing to do. New York racing is also obligated to seek out the best racing in the country, if not the world. NYRA has the highest number of graded stakes races in the U.S."—Paul Post

Straight Story's link to journalism

Gallagher's-bred colt captures West Point Stakes at Saratoga

by Don Clippinger

Richard Santulli's Straight Story finally collected his first stakes victory in the West Point Stakes on August 19 at Saratoga Race Course after being so very close on at least three previous occasions.

He is another stakes-winning product of Gallagher's Stud, which is all but synonymous with the restaurant business. Marlene Brody and her late husband, Jerome, named the Ghent farm after their world-renowned Gallagher's Steakhouse on Manhattan's West Side. But deep in his pedigree, the Giant's Causeway four-year-old has some printer's ink, and it is no less distinguished than Gallagher's reputation for prime, dry-aged steaks.

His fourth dam was Director, a Swaps filly who was bred by Leslie Combs II of Spendthrift Farm and the Fourth Estate Stable of John S. Knight. Starting with their family's base, the Akron Beacon Journal in Ohio, Knight and his brother James built a respected chain of newspapers that included, among others, the Miami Herald, Charlotte Observer, the Detroit Free Press, and Philadelphia Inquirer.

The Knight operation was known for putting its journalism ahead of profits (although for many years the chain was very profitable), and it promoted editorial executives into top management positions. Knight Newspapers merged with another news operation possessing a racing connection, Ben Ridder's Ridder Publications, in 1974, and in time the Ridder family became dominant. Knight Ridder essentially was dissolved in 2006 with its sale to McClatchy Newspapers for $6.5-billion in cash and stock.

For the mating that produced Director, Combs provided the season to Swaps and Knight provided the mare, Times Two, by Double Jay out of Bayadere, by Chance Play. Bred by Warner L.

Jones Jr., Times Two raced in the Fourth Estate Stable silks and finished second in the 1960 Selima Stakes and third in the '61 Kentucky Oaks.

Times Two proved to be a quality broodmare and produced two stakes winners, Heisanative and Two Timing Lass. Times Two's 1965 foal was Director, who never won a stakes race but came close four times. Director raced from two through six and improved with age. At five, she finished second in a division of Gulfstream Park's Suwannee River Handicap and also was second in Garden State Park's Colonial Handicap. At six, she finished second in Gulfstream's Bonnie Miss Stakes and Garden State's Colonial for a second straight year. From 72 starts, she won ten races and earned $118,088.

At stud, Director produced six winners, including God's Mark, a Little Current colt who won the 1980 Matt Gallagher Sprint Stakes and finished second in the '81 Greenlands Stakes (Ire-G3). Her Youth filly, Star Magic, produced multiple stakes winner Nudist Colony, by Pleasant Colony.

Director's 1979 foal was Illinois-bred Grand Bonheur, by Blushing Groom (Fr), who was campaigned by Jerome Brody in New York and Illinois, where she won two races. The Brodys retained her for their broodmare band with modest results. Her foals included a stakes winner over fences in Ireland and Northern Tryst, a New York-bred Northern Baby colt who finished third in the 1988 Middle Park Stakes (Eng-G1) in his second career start and concluded his career in Finger Lakes racetrack claiming races.

Grand Bonheur's most felicitous mating was to champion sprinter Rubiano, and the product was Felicita, who never raced but became an important broodmare. Her best by far was Take Charge Lady, whom Felicita was carrying when she was sold for $42,000 to William C. Schettine at the 1998 Keeneland November breeding stock sale.

Sold for $175,000 at the 2000 Fasig-Tipton Kentucky July selected yearling sale, Take Charge Lady was a graded stakes winner at two, three, and four for Select Stable, and her record included two victories in the Overbrook Spinster Stakes (G1) at Keeneland Race Course. Retired with earnings of $2,480,377, she was sold for $4.2-million at Keeneland November in 2004. Felicita also produced Commendation, a Capote gelding who won the Bourbon County Stakes and earned $315,738.

Gallagher's retained Felicita's first foal, Eventail, by Lear Fan, who won the 2000 New York Oaks at Finger Lakes and the '02 Mount Vernon Handicap at Belmont Park.

Bred to Elusive Quality, Eventail produced Fanfire, a filly who placed in six career starts. Eventail's second foal, a filly named Tulipmania, by Empire Maker, has won three of 15 starts and $143,796.

Bred to Giant's Causeway, Eventail produced Straight Story in 2006, and she was entered in foal for that year's Keeneland November sale. She sold for $925,000 and was imported to Japan, where she foaled an El Prado (Ire) filly.

Although the West Point was Straight Story's first stakes victory, he previously had three second-place finishes in graded stakes, each of which he lost by a head. Significantly better on grass than on dirt, he won his maiden victory in a 2008 Belmont turf race and matured into one of the better three-year-old turf runners last year. He finished second to Battle of Hastings (GB) in both the Colonial Turf Cup Stakes (G2) and the Virginia Derby (G2) at Colonial Downs.

After finishing second to New York-bred champion Banrock in the Ashley T. Cole Stakes at Belmont, Straight Story finished second by a head to Take the Points in the Jamaica Handicap (G1) at Belmont.

Trainer Alan Goldberg gave him the winter off and brought him back at Belmont in May. After a second-place finish (by a head, of course), he scored daylight victories in a Belmont optional claimer and a Monmouth Park allowance race.

Santulli and Goldberg were sufficiently encouraged by the Monmouth race to enter him in the Betfair/TVG United Nations Stakes (G1) on July 3. He acquitted himself well but weakened late to finish fourth, beaten two lengths by winner Chinchon (Ire).

Facing New York-breds again in the $100,000 West Point on Saratoga's inner Mellon Turf Course, Straight Story went off as the 1.05-to-1 favorite and won by a length over Pocket Cowboys. Despite stumbling at the break, he pressed the early pace of Spa City Fever, took the lead on the final turn, and opened daylight in midstretch. He ran the West Point's 1 1/8 miles in 1:48.58.

"I was hoping he would settle a little more than he did," Goldberg said after the West Point. "He's actually a pretty laid-back horse; he just gets keyed up for racing. He never got covered up, but it worked out."

HAYNESFIELD
Speightstown colt makes bid for second Horse of Year honors with victory in Jockey Club Gold Cup Stakes

Haynesfield blazes the way

Reigning Horse of the Year wires the Jockey Club Gold Cup; Bandbox makes some noise

by Don Clippinger

In the finest performance of his brilliant career, Turtle Bird Stable's Haynesfield blazed to a front-running, four-length victory in Belmont Park's $750,000 Jockey Club Gold Cup Stakes (G1) on October 2 to secure his first victory at the highest level, raise his career earnings above $1-million, and make his case for a second Horse of the Year honor.

In another outstanding year for New York-bred runners, Haynesfield was the third Grade 1 winner of 2010, after now-retired Franny Freud in Belmont's Prioress Stakes and Rightly So in Saratoga Race Course's Ballerina Stakes.

Haynesfield had been a part of New York breeding's biggest weekend, the Fourth of July holiday sweep of three graded stakes races, including Franny Freud's Prioress. Turtle Bird's four-year-old Speightstown colt scored a comfortable 2¾-length victory in the Suburban Handicap (G2) on July 3.

He had met with some misfortune in his first Grade 1 outing, the Whitney Handicap at Saratoga on August 7, when he broke through the starting gate with jockey Ramon Dominguez, was rank early, and finished a well-beaten fourth behind winner Blame.

Even before his fractious start, Haynesfield had not been held in high regard for the Whitney, going off as the 12-to-1 fifth betting choice in the field of six. Quality Road, who finished second by a head to 3.40-to-1 Blame, was the overwhelming 1-to-2 favorite.

As a result, bettors had a slightly higher opinion of Haynesfield as the 7.50-to-1 fourth pick of six starters in the Jockey Club Gold Cup. Still, he remained the overlay in the field as the money flowed to 4-to-5 Blame.

Haynesfield had to be regarded as the value horse for several reasons. One, of course, was his record. He had only one defeat, the Whitney, on his record in exactly 365 days. One year earlier, he finished second in the restricted Sir Keys Stakes and then won four straight before the Whitney.

The second reason was that he was the only speed in the race, so he and Dominguez had an opportunity to dictate the pace if the colt remained calm at the start and through the early fractions.

One wild card was the Jockey Club Gold Cup's 1¼ miles, a new distance for Haynesfield. Even Toby Sheets, New York chief assistant to trainer Steve Asmussen, was not sure that he would stay the distance. However, his best races had been at 1 1/8 miles, the distance of the Suburban and Aqueduct's Discovery Handicap (G3), which he won in November.

Another wild card was the weather. A tropical rainstorm had dumped more than three inches of rain on New York in the two preceding days, forcing the cancellation of racing. But the track was fast by time of the Jockey Club Gold Cup, and Haynesfield broke cleanly under Dominguez and went immediately to the lead.

His five opponents found themselves in a difficult predicament. If they advanced to challenge him early on the front end, they risked burning themselves out and not having any energy left for that testing final quarter-mile. If they laid back, Haynesfield might wire them.

Which he did. Haynesfield stepped through the first quarter-mile in a sustainable :24.63, with Rail Trip stalking 1 1/2 lengths behind him and Blame only three lengths off the lead in fourth. Haynesfield and Dominguez picked up the pace a bit on the backstretch with a :24.11 quarter to a :48.74 half.

It was a solid pace and by no means slow, but no one wanted to step up and be the first to test the New Yorker. "It was clear that he was the speed in the race, so I just did my best to slow him down because he was pretty eager," Dominguez said.

In another outstanding year for New York-bred runners, Haynesfield was the third Grade 1 winner of 2010, after now-retired Franny Freud in Belmont Park's Prioress Stakes and Rightly So in Saratoga Race Course's Ballerina Stakes.

Haynesfield entered the final turn with a three-length lead over Rail Trip after a slightly slower split, the third quarter-mile in :24.50. On Belmont's sweeping final turn, Haynesfield cemented the victory with a :23.82 quarter-mile while extending his advantage to 4 1/2 lengths over Rail Trip.

Dominguez had some concern, though, that Haynesfield may have moved too soon.

"I was so amazed when he hit the half-mile pole and switched to his left lead, the way he wanted to sprint from there," New York's leading jockey said. "I wasn't sure what to do because I didn't want to discourage him, but I didn't want him to open up even more on the field because it was too early in the race."

Haynesfield switched back to his right lead at the top of the stretch, after a mile in 1:37.06, and spurted away to a 7 1/2-length advantage at the furlong pole over Blame, who had displaced a tiring Rail Trip. While Blame made up some ground to the finish line, Haynesfield cruised to a relatively easy victory in 2:02.48 for the 1 1/4 miles.

"I know a lot of people will try to take something away from him because he was the only speed in the race, but he didn't have to run the way he did," Dominguez said.

Haynesfield's victory, his ninth in 13 career starts, was worth $450,000 and raised his earnings to $1,116,981.

Both Asmussen and Sheets said that the Breeders' Cup Classic (G1) at Churchill Downs on November 6 was a possibility.

"It means a lot for the horse," Sheets said of the Jockey Club Gold Cup victory. "He goes out every day and puts out his all for us."

Harvey Weinstein, owner of Turtle Bird Stable, said the Breeders'

BANDBOX

Tapit colt will target Delta Downs Jackpot Stakes following victory in Charles Town Juvenile Stakes

Cup decision would be left to Sheets, who has managed his career since his private purchase from Vision Racing after his maiden victory on September 25, 2008.

Bred by Barry Weisbord and Margaret Santulli, Haynesfield sold for $100,000 at the 2007 Keeneland September yearling sale to Maverick Racing. Pinhooked to Keeneland's April sale of two-year-olds in training, he sold for a bargain $20,000 to Vision Racing.

Strike up the Bandbox

By early October, Gainesway stallion Tapit had closed the gap on Medaglia d'Oro as the leading third-crop sire in North America. (Haynesfield's sire, WinStar-based Speightstown, was third.) Richard Simon's New Dawn Thoroughbreds and Aron Yagoda went to Tapit in 2007 with the Grand Slam mare Empty the Bases, and the resulting colt may be capable of swinging for extra bases.

Bandbox, a New York-bred owned by the Hillwood Stable of Washington, D.C., resident Ellen Charles, hit one out of the ballpark on September 18 when he cruised to a 9 1/2-length victory in the $100,000 Charles Town Juvenile Stakes at the West Virginia track now known as Hollywood Casino at Charles Town.

A $105,000 purchase by Hillwood at the 2009 Fasig-Tipton Midlantic Eastern fall yearling sale, Bandbox had won his career debut on the grass at Laurel Park, where he is trained by Rodney Jenkins. For the colt's second start, Jenkins targeted the seven-furlong Charles Town Juvenile.

With Eric Camacho in the saddle, Bandbox broke a step slowly, but his natural speed carried him past early pacesetter The-way-it-used-to-be after the first quarter-mile. With a half-length lead over Unleash the Humor after a half-mile in :46.89, Bandbox opened daylight on the turn and widened to a seven-length advantage at the furlong pole. The 2.90-to-1 second betting choice (behind 11-to-10 Star Zapper, who finished third), Bandbox ran the distance in 1:25.60 on a fast track.

Jenkins, a renowned show-jumping rider before he switched to training Thoroughbreds in the early 1990s, indicated that he would forgo a shot at the Breeders' Cup races, in large part because Bandbox was not nominated to the program, and instead would target the $1-million Delta Downs Jackpot Stakes (G3) on November 20.

EXPLANATION OF INDEXES

Racing Index (RI)

RI is based on the average earnings per start for all runners in the United States, Canada, England, Ireland, France, Italy, Germany, Puerto Rico, and United Arab Emirates. RI is determined by calculating the average earnings per start, divided into males and females, of all starters in each individual country, and the average for each individual year is by definition 1.00. Median RI, however, is much lower. Actual distribution of RI is detailed below.

Sire Index (SI)

The Sire Index (SI) is an average of the Racing Index (RI) of all foals by a sire that have started at least three times. For SI to be calculated, a sire must be represented by a minimum of three crops and 25 starters lifetime.

AUCTION INFORMATION

Auction information is for North American sales from 1980 to the present and includes the following:

- Subject horse (stakes winner): All auction activity—yearling, yearling, two-year-olds in training, or horses of racing age sales—found after the winner's name under the first dam.

- Sire of stakes winner: The sire's lifetime and current year yearling auction information is reported, with number of crops offered at yearling sales (lifetime), number of yearlings sold

(lifetime), and average price (lifetime, including yearlings sold in current year), followed by information for the current year; (Current year information is reported beginning October 1; current year information from January 1 through September 30 is in the previous year's auction information.)

- Dam of stakes winner: most recent sale, either as weanling, yearling, or two-year-old in training. Also reported is most recent sale as broodmare (including covering sire) or broodmare prospect, plus any sale of the dam while subject horse was in utero (including covering sire).

PEDIGREE SYMBOLS

Symbols preceding or following names of horses in pedigrees are used to identify horses that were imported into North America for racing or breeding, and to indicate country of birth. Equal signs preceding a horse's name indicate that a horse was foaled outside the U.S. or Canada and has never been imported to North America; a horse's country of birth appears in parentheses following its name. An asterisk preceding a horse's name indicates the horse was born outside the U.S. or Canada and was imported to North America prior to 1976 (no country codes are included for such horses). Names of horses imported since 1976 include a country code in parentheses following their name and are not preceded by equal signs. Horses that do not have a symbol preceding their name or a country code following their name were foaled in North America.

The accompanying list reports sires of New York-bred winners and winners by sires standing in New York in 2010, three-year-olds and upward, of all recent races, except straight claiming races. The second list reports sires of all New-York bred juvenile winners in the same time period.

The lists are presented alphabetically by sire, followed in parentheses by the number of current-year starters in North America for the sire and the sire's total number of individual winners in 2010, regardless of state where bred.

Following the sire information is the name of the winner's dam. The name of the winner is in light face capital letters (bold face capital letters if the win came in a stakes race), followed by the winner's sex, age, name of racetrack, and date of race.

The class of the race in which the victory took place immediately follows. Abbreviations used for class of race are similar to those used by Equibase: Alw—allowance; Hcp—overnight handicap; names of stakes races are spelled out, with the grade of the race, when applicable, in parentheses. Class of race is followed by the distance of the race, expressed in furlongs and fractions of furlongs, followed by first-place money earned by the winner.

New York general sire list by 2010 earnings

The accompanying sire list reports racing in the current year, plus lifetime statistics for all foals of racing age for each sire. The list reports sires that stand in New York regardless of where runners were foaled. To be considered for inclusion is any sire who is currently standing in New York or had last stood in that state if the sire has been pensioned or is dead. (If pensioned or is dead, the sire will be included if his youngest foals are age three or younger in 2010.)

Freshman sires of 2010 are denoted by a diamond (♦) preceding their name. The statistics are inclusive of all racing in the United States and Canada, Argentina, Australia, Brazil, Chile, England, France, Germany, Hong Kong, Ireland, Italy, Jamaica, Japan, Malaysia, Mexico, New Zealand, Peru, Puerto Rico, Saudi Arabia, Singapore, South Africa, United Arab Emirates, Uruguay, and Zimbabwe. North American statistics are complete through October 10, 2010.
