Debut Winner at SARATOGA Comes Full Circle for Freshman Sire Maybry's Boy

Adam Coglianese

Just days after MAYBRY'S BOY's returned to Highcliff his first winner, SPORTSWRITER captured the ninth race at Saratoga on Aug. 5

Graded stakes winner MAYBRY'S BOY won the Spectacular Bid at three after breaking his maiden over 7f in 1:22 and change at two. A winner every year from 2 to 7, MAYBRY'S BOY's first six dams all produced stakes winners - including graded winning sprinters, routers, juveniles, and turf stars.

Bred and owned by Flying Zee Stable, SPORTSWRITER was bred, foaled and raised at Highcliff Farm and is trained by Carlos Martin.

Jockey Ryan Curatolo encouraged SPORTSWRITER despite his greenness through the stretch and as the 2YO continued to close in with good energy he had to recover from a drifting runner to go on and win the MdSpWt by three-quarters of a length.

Very bright days ahead

by Jeffrey A. Cannizzo, Executive Director
New York Thoroughbred Breeders Inc.

The Saratoga meet is always packed with memorable events both on and off the track. For me, two “off-track” events will really stand out this year, and they took place on the same weekend.

I am referring first, of course, to the monumentally successful Fasig-Tipton New York-bred preferred yearling sale that took place on August 13 and 14. I’m sure you all joined me in celebrating the outstanding results: 28.9% more horses offered over the two days (183); 31.9% more horses sold (124), and total sales up a staggering 83% ($6,725,500). The average price for a yearling increased 38.7% to $54,238 and the median price rose 16.7% to $35,000. Even the buy-back rate, which cast a slight shadow over the dramatic gains in the first session, righted itself by the end of the second session, showing a slightly improved final number (32.2%) over last year (33.8%). The numbers reflect what I also witnessed on the sales grounds: enormous excitement about the future of New York racing and breeding, the return of old faces and arrival of new. By any measure, we have the first concrete returns on New York’s video lottery terminals (VLTs) investment that will be coming at Aqueduct.

In its own way, just as memorable for me—and I believe for over 100 audience members consisting of breeders, owners, industry officials, press, and the general public—was NYTB’s New York Forum held at the sales pavilion on the morning before the first session of the sale. For those of you who were unable to attend, I would like to summarize some of the high points.

New York Racing Association President and Chief Executive Officer Charles Hayward, the first of five to take the microphone, spoke to the high level of cooperation between NYRA and [racino operator] Genting during the construction of the Aqueduct racino, and tipped his hat to the horsemen for all the accommodations that they have had to make over the winter. Hayward reviewed the stats for state-bred races run by NYRA in the last two years, noting a decline in the number of races this year, but an overall increase in purses. After running 699 state-bred races last year, NYRA will run around 600 this year, which is the number stipulated in their franchise agreement. Hayward fully expects a rebound to the earlier high numbers of restricted races after the foal crop recovers. He also pointed out in response to a question, that the current NYRA franchise contract provides a good legal basis, should the state government try to change anything about the VLT splits, as has happened in other states.

In some ways, the highlight of the morning was the informative and almost spellbinding slide presentation by Michael Speller, president of Resorts World New York. Speller did everything from outlining the basics about the Genting Group, the largest gaming operator in the world, to mapping out the Aqueduct racino, the first phase of which, the “Times Square Casino,” is scheduled to open in October. The second phase, the “Fifth Avenue Casino” on the second floor, which is scheduled to open in December, will include an exclusive club for high-end patrons to attract customers who currently go to casinos out of state.

Genting estimates that the racino, which he believes is currently the biggest job creation initiative in the state, will supply approximately $120-million in additional annual support for the New York racing and breeding industries: $55-million in purses, $10-million to the Fund, $23-million for NYRA operating support, and $31-million for NYRA capital support. After noting that “On [August 16] you will see the first slot machines roll onto the property,” Spelling said, “We are thrilled to be here in New York state. We are working almost around the clock right now to get this done.”

Fasig-Tipton Marketing Director Terence Collier, who began his career with Fasig-Tipton as director of advertising and marketing in 1976, enunciated the most controversial views of the morning in a vigorous advocacy of breeding New York-breds primarily for success in open competition. Whether you agree or disagree, I think it is important you should attend closely to the following excerpts of what the marketing director of the sales company that sells your yearlings had to say.

“We have to change the perception of New York-breds,” Collier said. “We have to make them competitive in open company. That’s always been the test of the Thoroughbred and always will be. So as much as we applaud the closed program of restricted racing for New York-breds, it will not be until they compete on the widest platform against the widest group of competitors that they will earn the respect I know they can generate.

“As the purses for the NYRA program blossom, every top owner and trainer in North America will want to run at Belmont Park, Aqueduct, and Saratoga.

“The challenge for every breeder of a New York-bred is to produce a Thoroughbred capable of competing in open company in one of the most competitive race circuits in the world.

“We have all seen state-bred programs open, grow, and then, by most measures, fail. In my opinion, the reason for failure is closed, restricted racing and protected programs for narrow self-interested groups.”

Collier believes everyone will succeed in the next five years, but “the challenge will be to maintain that growth over the next

Future Outlook

- Due to the reduction in foal crop size, the opportunity for NY-Bred owners to win purse money has never been greater.
- NY-Bred purses will grow with the purse enrichment from Resorts World Casino at Aqueduct.
- The Breeding Fund will grow up to 100% of its net worth by 2014 based on solid projections from Resorts World Casino at Aqueduct.
- The Fund’s ability to pay awards in full and the potential for increased or enhanced awards will be a reality in the years ahead.
- Further advantages for NY-Breds are being sought by the NY industry to encourage ownership & breeding.

have now, in his opinion, been rendered “bomb-proof.”

Violette also made the interesting—and I think valid—point that ultimately the VLT delay may prove to be a blessing in disguise. “As long as this wait has been, the ten years of crisis and the sleepless nights, and wondering whether you’re going to stay in New York or go elsewhere, we actually might end up lucky because Genting was certainly the right entity at the right time with the financial wherewithal to go full speed ahead.”

The purpose of my own presentation was to contrast the grim statistics of the recent past with the promise of the future. I first showed slides that spoke to the ravages on the New York breeding program over the past five or six years, with which you are all so familiar: A decline in the number of farms in New York (-25%), number of mares participating in the program (-37%), foal crop (-27%), jobs (-4,000), and stallion population (-57%). In the cycle of decline, pari-mutuel handle has dropped, reducing Fund Revenue in turn to the tune of 34%, leaving larger and larger proportions of money owed in awards unpaid, and forcing a 50% reduction in awards for second and third place.

Then I could turn to the rosier, much rosier future. The accompanying slide is worth a thousand words. On the basis of—in my opinion—a conservative estimate of $350 win per machine rate, in 2014 the Fund can look for a 100% increase in revenue.

NYTB President Barry Ostrager concluded the program by thanking all the participants and hailing the unparalleled “true partnership” of NYTB, NYRA, and NYTHA over the past several years.

New call center ends NYRA-Cuomo tiff

Churchill Downs subsidiary to open $750,000 operation with 60 jobs in Buffalo area

In an unusual win-win conclusion to a New York Racing Association disagreement with state government, NYRA and Governor Andrew M. Cuomo settled their differences over phone-betting jobs with neither being forced to back down.

Cuomo announced on August 8 that a Churchill Downs Inc. subsidiary, Churchill Downs Technology Initiatives Co., would open a new call center in Amherst, near Buffalo, and would hire 60 employees. Cuomo estimated the investment at $750,000.

NYRA had angered the first-year governor when it contracted with Churchill Downs for call-center services for its NYRA Rewards phone-betting operation. Efforts to counteract the closure of New York City Off-Track Betting Corp. in December had resulted in a sizable increase in phone-betting activity, and NYRA made the move to improve customer service.

The NYRA employees who had been providing the phone-betting services were assigned, so no layoffs resulted. Cuomo, however, demanded that the jobs remain in New York instead of Oregon, where Churchill's call center is located. The governor got his wish, and NYRA did not capitulate.

GOV. ANDREW CUOMO

"I am pleased that we were able to bring these jobs back to New York," Cuomo said. "The proposal to move these jobs out of state should never have happened, and I want to thank NYRA and [Empire State Development] for their hard work in reaching this agreement and preserving these New York-based jobs."

Empire State Development helped the Churchill Downs subsidiary to identify the Amherst option. No state incentives are involved.

"We were pleased to work with Empire State Development to help [Churchill Downs Technology Initiatives] find a New York location for our telebet operations," NYRA President Charles Hayward said.

John D. Sabini, chairman of the New York State Racing and Wagering Board, said the agreement benefited all parties.

"This is a winning solution for taxpayers, the racing industry, and the countless dedicated workers who keep world-class racing thriving in the Empire State," Sabini said. "Gov. Cuomo's commitment to putting New Yorkers back to work is exemplified with this result, and, as the regulatory body that oversees NYRA, it was paramount to the Racing and Wagering Board that these jobs remain in New York state. I applaud Gov. Cuomo, [Empire State Development], and NYRA for working together to reach this conclusion."

Purse enhancements for Finger Lakes and NYRA

A revised New York State Thoroughbred Breeding and Development Fund budget will provide $820,000 in additional purse money to Finger Lakes racetrack and the New York Racing Association tracks.

The additional purse contribution was approved on August 4 and announced by fund Chairman John D. Sabini and Executive Director Tracy Egan.

By statute, Finger Lakes will receive 60% of the money, or $492,000. NYRA's share totals $328,000. The budget revision resulted from increased revenues from NYRA and lower than anticipated stallion and breeder awards.

The New York Fund will provide $820,000 in additional purses this year

Established in 1973, the Thoroughbred Breeding and Development Fund distributes more than $40-million in incentives, breeder, stallion and owner awards and purse money for New York-bred horses annually. The fund is financed through a small percentage of total wagers on Thoroughbred racing in New York. The fund also receives revenue from a small percentage of VLT revenues at Finger Lakes and, beginning this fall, Aqueduct.

Dublin headed to Keane Stud

Dublin, winner of the 2009 Three Chimneys Hopeful Stakes (G1) at Saratoga Race Course, has been retired and will stand the 2012 season at Keane Stud in Amenia.

Spendthrift Farm purchased the four-year-old Afleet Alex colt specifically to expand into the New York market, which is expected to grow considerably after revenue from the Aqueduct racino begins to flow into the industry this fall.

DUBLIN

Spendthrift also will introduce its "Share the Upside" program with Dublin. The program offers breeders the chance to breed two mares to a stallion, pay both stud fees, and then have a lifetime breeding right in the stallion.

"We're thrilled to be able to offer New York breeders our Share the Upside program, and Dublin is a great first horse to do just that," Spendthrift owner B. Wayne Hughes said.

Out of the Storm Bird mare Classy Mirage, Dublin was bred by Peter Blum and Gerry Dilger. A $525,000 purchase by owners Robert Baker and William Mack at the 2008 Keeneland September yearling sale, Dublin was trained throughout his career by Racing Hall of Fame member D. Wayne Lukas and won the Hopeful by two lengths. He placed in three graded stakes at three before finishing seventh in the Kentucky Derby Presented by Yum! Brands (G1) and a troubled fifth in the Preakness Stakes (G1).

"New York breeders should be very familiar with Dublin," said Ned Toffey, Spendthrift's general manager. "He was a dynamic Grade 1 winner in that state, as were both his sire, Afleet Alex, and dam, Classy Mirage. On top of his ability and pedigree, Dublin is also a must-see individual."

Dublin will be available for inspection by appointment.

MO MONEY

The expected influx of money into the New York-bred program because of the new casino at Aqueduct had buyers in a spending mood at the Fasig-Tipton New York-bred yearling sale

New York-bred sale results exceed lofty expectations

Upcoming money from VLTs bolsters prices at yearling sale

Expectations of an extremely strong showing at the Fasig-Tipton Saratoga preferred New York-bred yearling sale were realized with authority during the two days of selling on August 13-14 in Saratoga Springs.

The expectations were high heading into the New York-bred sale, with video lottery terminals set to finally come online later this fall at Aqueduct and large purse incentives expected in the Empire State. Buyers responded enthusiastically, and Fasig-Tipton reported sales on 124 yearlings for a near-record $6,725,500 during the two sessions.

The sale's average price was $54,238, a 38.7% increase from the $39,106 average at last year's sale. Median price also rose sharply, from $30,000 in 2010 to $35,000 this year. The sale's buy-back rate, which ran high early in both sessions, came down to an acceptable level of 32.2% when selling was complete amid a late evening rainstorm on August 14.

"It was a fantastic sale," said Boyd T. Browning Jr., Fasig-Tipton president. "We had great interest from a variety of buyers, from end-users to pinhookers, to New York-based folks, to non-New York-based folks. It was a very encouraging sale, not only for 2011 but for the New York-bred program going forward. ... Hopefully it's the beginning of a very, very profitable time for the New York-bred program."

The sale was bolstered by significant interest in the opening of the casino at Aqueduct, which is expected to pump significant money into the Empire State's purse accounts.

"This time a year ago, we had some uncertainty," Browning said. "But thank goodness we're now under 100 days before you see some of the slots in operation [at Aqueduct]. I'd like to think that the results of both sales give us confidence to continue to make the main sale the premier yearling sale in the world and for this sale to be a great place to sell New York-breds."

The star New York-bred was sold during the opening session—a colt by Dixie Union out of the small Winter Quarter Farm consignment tucked into one of the barns that faces the back walking ring. Winter Quarter was one of the new consignors at the preferred sale, and owner Don Robinson was richly rewarded for bringing yearlings to Saratoga for his New York clients.

Everett Dobson, bidding in the name of his Cheyenne Stables that co-owns recent Amsterdam Stakes (G2) winner Caleb's Posse, secured the Dixie Union colt for $250,000 late in the opening session. Dobson, in the news recently as an investor in the Three Chimneys Stallion operation, made his fortune in the telecommunications business and is a part owner of the Oklahoma City Thunder of the National Basketball Association.

"I liked his athleticism, I like Dixie Union, and he's got a great walk and a great attitude," Dobson said. "It certainly didn't hurt [that the colt is a New York-bred]. I like to race in New York and I'm starting to develop a stable up here.

"I've been watching how he handled everything up here the last few days and he checked all the boxes for me. What can I say, I'm thrilled to be in New York."

Robinson was equally thrilled in his first venture at the New York-bred sale.

"Needless to say I've been up here a lot through the years,"

It was a very encouraging sale, not only for 2011 but for the New York-bred program going forward. ... Hopefully, it's the beginning of a very, very profitable time for the New York-bred program."

Fasig-Tipton President Boyd T. Browning on the Fasig-Tipton preferred sale of New York-breds said Robinson, a third-generation Kentuckian and former Kentucky Thoroughbred Farm Managers Club farm manager of the year. "But I've been influenced by my clients. My clients race in New York, they breed New York-breds, and they're going to continue to race in New York.

"The price was good and a bit more than I expected. That was really his best day. He was a nice horse. At Keeneland he'd probably be a book two or book three type horse and he might get lost. Here he was able to stand out. You hope that you can do that with a horse like him, but it doesn't always work out that way."—Tom Law

Beating the averages

New York-breds fare well at Belmont Park's spring-summer race meet

by Don Clippinger

New York Racing Association officials justifiably were pleased with the 2011 Belmont Park spring-summer race meeting. As much as anything, the 55-date season (one day was lost to foul weather) proved that NYRA has survived the closure of New York City Off-Track Betting Corp.

Owners of New York-breds had several reasons to be pleased with the Belmont meet, which extended from April 29 through July 17. As always, state-breds played a major role in the premier East Coast meeting, filling almost one-quarter of the overall racing program.

The native New Yorkers also beat many of the Belmont meet's statistical yardsticks, including average overnight purse and field size. The New York-bred races were concentrated in the upper levels of NYRA Director of Racing P. J. Campo's condition book and filled well.

Here are some of the key statistics for New York-breds from the spring-summer meet:

- Races restricted to New York-breds accounted for 123 of 526 races, or 23.3% of the entire racing program.
- New York-breds raced for purses totaling $5.2-million, an average of $41,881 per race. The average was close to the median New York-bred purse of $42,000.
- Belmont's overnight purses for New York-bred races averaged $39,047, a significant premium over the meet's average overnight purse of $35,483. While the New York-bred average purse of $41,881 was below the overall meet average of $48,985, the difference was due to stakes money paid out in open races, including the $1-million Belmont Stakes (G1).

- New York-bred races offered an average field size of 8.1 horses per race, which was well above the overall average of 7.5 starters per race.

Race conditions

The healthy average purse for New York-bred races occurred because the program is focused on non-claiming races, which accounted for 83.7% of restricted races and 92.5% of purses. No open claiming races were offered, and maiden claimers filled only 20 races, or approximately one in six New York-bred races at the meet.

Fifteen of those maiden-claiming races were for a $16,000 tag and carried an $18,000 purse; the five maiden claimers for a $35,000 price each had $23,000 purses. Overall, the maiden claimers averaged $21,190.

Stakes races are the richest events on the New York-bred schedule, and those nine races averaged $77,778. Four of them carried $100,000 purses, and the remainder paid $60,000 each.

The Belmont meet contributed significantly to the number of New York-bred winners. In addition to the 20 maiden claimers, the Belmont program offered 40 maiden special weight races, or roughly one-third of all restricted races. Those maiden special weight races paid an average purse of $42,650.

Allowance races were the next largest category with 31 races, or one in every four New York-bred contests. The allowance races offered an average purse of $43,368.

Other than stakes races, the highest purses were paid to optional allowance-claimers. Those 22 races had an average purse of $44,272.

Age and sex

Belmont's conditions for New York-breds make almost no distinction between three-year-olds and their elders. Three-year-olds, whether male or female, were expected to race against their elders. In all, 117 races carried three-and-up conditions, leaving only six races to other categories.

Of those 117 races, 64 were open and had an average purse of $39,725. The 53 races restricted to fillies and mares carried an average purse of $40,924. In addition to offering a similar number of races, these three-and-up contests were highly symmetrical. The open races averaged 7.1 furlongs, and the filly-and-mare editions averaged 7.0 furlongs. Both had average field sizes of 8.2 starters.

The only three-year-old races were two $100,000 stakes on June 26, one for males (the Mike Lee Stakes, won by Preachinto-thedevil) and one for fillies (the Bouwerie Stakes, won by Ava K.) The Mike Lee had six starters, and the Bouwerie had five.

The Belmont meet offered no New York-bred stakes races for two-year-olds, but the four two-year-old races—two open races and two for fillies—carried stakes-level money of $60,000 in each maiden special weight. The males averaged 8.5 starters, and the fillies averaged eight starters.

The Belmont meet contributed significantly to the number of New York-bred winners. In addition to the 20 maiden claimers, the Belmont program offered 40 maiden special weight races, or roughly one-third of all restricted races

Field size and surface

To an extent, field size was inversely proportionate to purse amounts. After one New York-bred starter allowance with six starters, stakes races had the smallest average fields, with 6.2 starters per race. The next smallest fields were for the optional allowance-claimers, which averaged 7.2 per race, well below the New York-bred meet average of 8.1.

Picking up the slack were allowance races and maiden contests. The maiden special weight races averaged 8.9 starters, and allowance races had an average of 8.5 starters. The maiden claimers attracted an average of eight starters per race.

Also helping the average field size was the weather, although breeding-farm owners and other farmers were unlikely to cheer. Campo's condition book offered a balance of dirt races (62) and turf contests (61).

Relatively dry conditions in the meet's second half resulted in only three races being moved from the turf to the main track. The last turf-to-dirt switch occurred on June 18, almost a month before the meet closed on July 17.

As always, the turf races filled well, averaging 8.9 starters per race, while the dirt races averaged 7.4 starters. The switched races had an average of seven starters.

Turf racing usually is associated with longer distances, but the disparity between dirt and grass was not especially large at the Belmont spring-summer meet. The New York-bred dirt races averaged 6.7 furlongs, and grass contests averaged 7.3. The longest distances were for the three switched races, at an average of 7.5 furlongs.

Meet leaders

The 2½-month meeting did not produce any three-time winners in restricted New York-bred races, but 11 horses put together two winning performances. Among them, seven collected both maiden special weight and allowance victories in New York-bred races.

One of them, Flying Zee Stable's Street Game, stepped up his game after the two May victories and won the Hill Prince Stakes (G3) on June 18. The three-year-old Street Cry (Ire) colt out of Thunder Achiever, by Thunder Puddles, was bred by Nustar Breeding LLC. His Belmont purses in both open and restricted races totaled $110,400.

Also notable was Ava K., who won the $60,000 Wandering Cloud Stakes before she took the Bouwerie. Bred and owned by Sugar Maple Farm and H. Lewis Rapaport, the three-year-old Dixie Union filly out of Bedside Manner, by Dr. Blum, previously had finished third in the open Wanda Stakes on May 8. She earned $102,000 during the Belmont meeting.

The meet's leading stallion by New York-bred wins was Freud, the multiple New York champion sire who stands for Sequel Stallions at Keane Stud. The Storm Cat horse out of Mariah's Storm, by Rahy, had seven individual winners of seven races.

Close behind Freud was City Zip, with six winners and six wins. Third on the list was Sequel's Hook and Ladder with five winners and the same number of wins. The Sequel stallion had both two-year-old filly winners, Bait and Hook It Up. Another Sequel stallion, Read the Footnotes, was fourth with four wins by three individuals.

Three broodmare sires with strong New York connections tied with four wins by three individual starters. Longtime New York sires A. P. Jet and Thunder Puddles were joined by Devil's Bag, who was 1983 two-year-old male champion while trained in New York by Racing Hall of Fame member Woody Stephens.

A Priceless pedigree

Giant Ryan emerges from line of Comely Nell's daughter Priceless Fame

By Don Clippinger

Giant Ryan took a giant step forward in his racing career when he won the Smile Sprint Handicap (G2) on Calder Race Course's Summit of Speed program on July 9. It was the third 2011 stakes victory and fifth straight win for the five-year-old Freud horse, who is owned by Shivananda Parbhoo and trained by his father, Bisnath Parboo.

Giant Ryan's success this year serves as a reminder of the enduring influence of his fourth dam, Comely Nell, a nearly blind mare who has had a significant impact on American breeding over three decades.

By Commodore M., Comely Nell was out of Nellie L., a daughter of 1934 champion two-year-old filly Nellie Flag and winner of the 1943 Kentucky Oaks and Acorn Stakes for Calumet Farm. Comely Nell was unable to race because of her limited vision and was sold privately as a yearling to Red Bull Stable in 1963. It was one of the best purchases in the annals of American bloodstock.

Red Bull was the partnership of two Louisville businessmen, Marvin Waldman and Sam Lyon, who owned Comely Nell in partnership with legendary bloodstock agent Lee Eaton's Eaton Farms. Marty Fallon, a respected trainer in Kentucky and later in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, recommended Eaton to Waldman and Lyon, and they began their operation in the early 1960s.

Comely Nell produced a remarkable family for the partnership. Undoubtedly, her most accomplished offspring was Bold Forbes, the Irish Castle colt who won the 1976 Kentucky Derby (G1) and Belmont Stakes (G1). Bred by Red Bull and Eaton Farms, Bold Forbes subsequently was voted champion three-year-old male. At stud, Bold Forbes sired 29 stakes winners, including ten graded stakes winners.

Comely Nell's reputation also grew on the strength of her daughters. See You At the Top, by Riva Ridge, was the dam of Life At the Top, a multiple stakes winner for L. R. French Jr. and trainer D. Wayne Lukas.

Red Bull, Eaton Farms, and the Seminole Syndicate bred the Seattle Slew filly, who won the 1986 Mother Goose Stakes (G1) and Ladies Handicap (G1). At stud, Life At the Top produced Group 3 winner Elizabeth Bay, who was a graded stakes producer herself.

Life At the Top also was money in the bank. She sold for $800,000 at the Keeneland July selected yearling sale and was sold as a broodmare prospect in 1987 for $1.1-million at the Fasig-Tipton Kentucky Night of the Stars mixed sale. The following November, she returned to the Keeneland pavilion in foal to Mr. Prospector and was sold for $1.9-million.

Priceless Fame

Comely Nell's daughter Priceless Fame, a full sister to Bold Forbes, also was priceless at stud and in the sales ring. She was a modest winner on the track and, like See You At the Top, she was highly successful when matched with Kentucky's top sires.

Priceless Fame's first foal, the *Grey Dawn II colt Dunbeath, propelled her into the elite ranks. He won the 1982 William Hill Futurity (Eng-G1) and Royal Lodge Stakes (Eng-G2) to rank among the year's top juveniles. Although Dunbeath was unable to maintain that form beyond his two-year-old year, he established Priceless Fame as a source of precocious, top-level runners. That reputation carried into the sales ring the following year when Red Bull and Eaton Farms sold Priceless Fame's Alydar colt, subsequently named Saratoga Six, to Lukas for $2.2-million. Racing for French and partners, the Alydar colt was brilliant and unbeaten until injury ended his career in late 1984. After his maiden score at Hollywood Park, he won the Hollywood Juvenile Championship Stakes (G2) before heading to Del Mar for victories in the Balboa Stakes (G3) and Del Mar Futurity (G1).

Eaton and the Red Bull partners entered Priceless Fame in the 1983 Keeneland November sale while she was carrying a full sister to Saratoga Six, and she sold for $3.2-million to Jeffrey Morris, acting for Joseph O. Morrissey.

The Alydar filly, named Milliardaire, was a modest two-time winner on the racetrack but, like many from Comely Nell's brood, she excelled in the sales ring and at stud. Morrissey entered her in the 1985 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale of selected yearlings, and Mike Rutherford bought her for $2.7-million.

Milliardaire produced one of 1994's top three-year-old fillies, Lakeway, winner of the Santa Anita Oaks (G1), Hollywood Oaks (G1), and Mother Goose. Lakeway produced stakes winner Sluice, by Seeking the Gold, and Sluice's daughter Mushka won the Juddmonte Spinster Stakes (G1) at Keeneland Race Course.

Milliardaire was the only foal that Priceless Fame produced for Morrissey, who sold the broodmare in foal to Seattle Slew at Keeneland's 1984 November sale for $6-million to Darley Stud Management.

Giant Ryan's family

Between Dunbeath and Saratoga Six, Priceless Fame produced the Best Turn filly Khwlah, who carried the family overseas. Offered by Red Bull and Eaton Farms at the 1982 Fasig-Tipton Saratoga sale, the filly went for $550,000 to H. Thomson Jones, acting for the Shadwell operation of Dubai's Sheikh Hamdan bin Rashid al Maktoum.

Khwlah was a modest runner who nonetheless picked up black type with second-place finishes in the Premio Legnano (Ity-G2) and Preis der Stadt Baden-Baden. She produced Kheyrah, a Dayjur filly who won three of six starts in lower-level competition.

Shadwell offered Kheyrah at Keeneland's 2002 January sale, and Lakland purchased her for $10,000, well beneath the sale average of $37,022. She proved to be a bargain for the New York-based operation, then owned by Becky Thomas and Lewis Lakin.

Kheyrah's first foal for the partnership, the Intidab colt Sentiero Rosso, sold for $22,000 at the following year's Ocala Breeders' Sales Co.'s January sale. He won four of 45 starts, placed in a listed two-year-old race in England, and earned $55,250.

Kheyrah was bred to first-year sire Freud in 2002, and the result was Psychotic Reaction, a New York-bred gelding who earned $131,275 in 36 starts. The mare was bred back to Freud in 2005, producing Giant Ryan for Thomas and Lakland.

Sold for $14,000 as a weanling at the OBS October mixed sale, Giant Ryan failed to meet his reserve at the OBS March 2008 sale of two-year-olds in training and was purchased by Shivananda Racing for $27,000 at the 2008 OBS June sale of horses of racing age.

Giant Ryan won two of three starts late in the year at Aqueduct and then was winless at three and four. His five-year-old season has yielded five wins from seven starts, a graded victory, and a guaranteed spot in the $1.5-million Sentient Jet Breeders' Cup Sprint (G1) at Churchill Downs on November 5. Bisnath Parboo said Giant Ryan might start in the Vosburgh Stakes (G1) at Belmont Park as a prep race for the Breeders' Cup Sprint.

Ibboyyee and Icabad Crane return to the winner's circle at Saratoga

By Don Clippinger

For Ibboyyee and Icabad Crane, the droughts were rather long, although they had shot for the stars and both had picked up black type in the interim.

Icabad Crane, the six-year-old Jump Start gelding owned by Earle I. Mack, had been away from the winner's circle for more than five months, since a victory in the $60,000 G'Day Mate Stakes for New York-breds on February 17 at Aqueduct. Anstu Stables' Ibboyyee had gone even longer since his score in the New York Derby on July 17, 2010, at Finger Lakes.

Both prominent multiple New York-bred stakes winners found the historic confines of Saratoga Race Course to be very friendly at the beginning of the 2011 meet, although both had to work hard for narrow victories. Icabad Crane won the $75,000 Evan Shipman Stakes by a nose on July 25, and Ibboyyee got up late to win the $77,000 John Morrissey Stakes by a neck on August 3.

Neither stakes winner had been inactive between their victories, and both had picked up some additional black type. After his G'Day Mate victory, Icabad Crane had finished third in the William Donald Schaefer Memorial Stakes (G3) at Pimlico Race Course on the Preakness Stakes (G1) undercard. It was familiar territory for Icabad Crane, who had won the 2008 Federico Tesio Stakes and finished third to Big Brown in that year's Preakness.

After the Schaefer, Mack and trainer Graham Motion sent Icabad Crane into the Suburban Handicap (G2) on July 2 at Belmont Park, where he finished sixth behind winner Flat Out.

Trained by Todd Pletcher, Ibboyyee had finished a close third in the Churchill Downs Stakes (G2), beaten a half-length by winner Aikenite on the Kentucky Derby Presented by Yum! Brands (G1) undercard on May 7. At three last year, the Medallist colt finished second in the Swale Stakes (G2) at Gulfstream Park and the Withers Stakes (G3) at Aqueduct.

Both Ibboyyee and Icabad Crane certainly were due for victories, and both found themselves in tough company in their respective New York-bred stakes races. Both had to make determined late runs to overtake game front-runners to earn their way to Saratoga's winner's circle.

Neither was favored in their returns to New York-bred stakes. With three horses scratched, Icabad Crane went off as the 2.15-to-1 second betting choice behind 1.55-to-1 Stormy's Majesty in a field of five for the 1½-mile Shipman. As expected, Well-spring Stables' Stormy's Majesty went to the lead under Edgar Prado and led by four lengths after six furlongs while Icabad Crane raced near the back of the field.

Jockey Rajiv Maragh put Icabad Crane into gear on the final turn, but they still trailed the front-runner by three lengths at the furlong pole. Mack's gelding gradually cut into the lead and grabbed the advantage right before the finish line.

"I knew it was going to take a lot for my horse to catch up," Maragh said. "[Stormy's Majesty] had put quite a bit of separation between myself and the field. But my horse ran as hard as he could."

Icabad Crane covered the distance in 1:51.42 on a sloppy, sealed track.

After the winner's circle presentation, Mack conceded that Icabad Crane's misspelled name was a case of miscommunication. He knows well the story of Ichabod Crane in Washington Irving's "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow."

"I went to school in Sleepy Hollow, so I know just where the headless horseman rode," he said.

Icabad Crane was bred by Gallagher's Stud, as was his two-year-old half brother by Corinthian, who was purchased for $120,000 at the 2010 Keeneland September yearling sale. Mack has named him Van Tassel—for the family Crane visited before his encounter with the headless horseman—and the colt is in training at the Fair Hill Training Center with Motion.

The 6½-furlong Morrissey pitted Pletcher against one of his principal clients, Mike Repole. Be Bullish, owned by Repole and trained by George Weaver, was favored at 1.30-to-1 over Ibboyyee at 1.35-to-1.

Be Bullish, who had been acquired for $75,000 by the claims box in his previous start, pressed the pace of Mineswept, took the lead at the top of the stretch, and opened a 1½-length advantage at the furlong pole.

Ibboyyee, ridden by John Velazquez, was fourth at that marker but slashed into the five-length disadvantage to win by a neck.

"At the eighth pole, I thought I might not get there, but at the sixteenth pole I thought I could," Velazquez said.

Pletcher said the outcome was his dream scenario for the Morrissey, and he had been kidding Repole about it in the week preceding the race. "I feel a little bit bad for him," he said.

EXPLANATION OF INDEXES

Racing Index (RI)

RI is based on the average earnings per start for all runners in the United States, Canada, England, Ireland, France, Italy, Germany, Puerto Rico, and United Arab Emirates. RI is determined by calculating the average earnings per start, divided into males and females, of all starters in each individual country, and the average for each individual year is by definition 1.00. Median RI, however, is much lower. Actual distribution of RI is detailed below.

Sire Index (SI)

The Sire Index (SI) is an average of the Racing Index (RI) of all foals by a sire that have started at least three times. For SI to be calculated, a sire must be represented by a minimum of three crops and 25 starters lifetime.

AUCTION INFORMATION

Auction information is for North American sales from 1980 to the present and includes the following:

- Subject horse (stakes winner): All auction activity—yearling, yearling, two-year-olds in training, or horses of racing age sales—found after the winner's name under the first dam.
- Sire of stakes winner: The sire's lifetime and current year yearling auction information is reported, with number of crops offered at yearling sales (lifetime), number of yearlings sold

(lifetime), and average price (lifetime, including yearlings sold in current year), followed by information for the current year. (Current year information is reported beginning October 1; current year information from January 1 through September 30 is in the previous year's auction information.)

• Dam of stakes winner: most recent sale, either as weanling, yearling, or two-year-old in training. Also reported is most recent sale as broodmare (including covering sire) or broodmare prospect, plus any sale of the dam while subject horse was in utero (including covering sire).

PEDIGREE SYMBOLS

Symbols preceding or following names of horses in pedigrees are used to identify horses that were imported into North America for racing or breeding, and to indicate country of birth. Equal signs preceding a horse's name indicate that a horse was foaled outside the U.S. or Canada and has never been imported to North America; a horse's country of birth appears in parentheses following its name. An asterisk preceding a horse's name indicates the horse was born outside the U.S. or Canada and was imported to North America prior to 1976 (no country codes are included for such horses). Names of horses imported since 1976 include a country code in parentheses following their name and are not preceded by equal signs. Horses that do not have a symbol preceding their name or a country code following their name were foaled in North America.

The accompanying list reports sires of New York-bred winners and winners by sires standing in New York in 2011, three-year-olds and upward, of all recent races, except straight claiming races. The second list reports sires of all New-York bred juvenile winners in the same time period.

The lists are presented alphabetically by sire, followed in parentheses by the number of current-year starters in North America for the sire and the sire's total number of individual winners in 2011, regardless of state where bred.

Following the sire information is the name of the winner's dam. The name of the winner is in light face capital letters (bold face capital letters if the win came in a stakes race), followed by the winner's sex, age, name of racetrack, and date of race.

The class of the race in which the victory took place immediately follows. Abbreviations used for class of race are similar to those used by Equibase: Alw—allowance; Hcp—overnight handicap; names of stakes races are spelled out, with the grade of the race, when applicable, in parentheses. Class of race is followed by the distance of the race, expressed in furlongs and fractions of furlongs, followed by first-place money earned by the winner.

Breeding Rules

To qualify for registration as a New York-bred, the mare must foal in New York state and meet the following domicile requirements:

Resident Mares: Must be continuously in residence in New York state from within 90 days after last cover in the year of conception and thereafter remain in residence until foaling the following year, with no breed-back required.

Non-Resident Mares: Must foal in New York state and be bred back to a registered New York-based stallion and remain for a continuous period of 90 days after foaling.

New York State Breeding and Development Fund NY-Breds Award Program

Breeder, owner, and stallion owner awards are based on purse money earned (first through third) while competing in pari-mutuel races run in New York state.

BREEDER AWARDS

In 2010, the New York State Thoroughbred Breeding and Development Fund paid $5,400,945 to breeders of registered New York-breds. A breeder is the owner of the mare at the time the mare foals in the state of New York. Breeder awards are determined by covering stallion. If the New York-bred is by a registered New York-based stallion, the award is up to 20% of the purse earned for a first-place finish and up to 10% for a second- or third-place finish.

If the New York-bred is by an out-of-state stallion or non-registered stallion, the award is up to 10% for a first-place finish and up to 5% for a second- or third-place finish. All breeder awards are capped at $10,000 per horse per race.

STALLION OWNER AWARDS

In 2010, the New York State Thoroughbred Breeding and Development Fund distributed $1,559,215 in stallion owner awards. Stallion owner awards are paid to owners of registered New York-based covering stallions (at time of conception) at up to 7% of earned purses from first through third positions. All stallion owner awards are capped at $10,000 per horse per race.

OPEN OWNER AWARDS

In 2010, the New York State Thoroughbred Breeding and Development Fund paid $859,621 to owners of registered New York-breds who earned purse money in open-company races. Owner awards for registered New York-breds sired by a registered New York-based stallion is up to 20% of purses earned from first through third positions in races run for a claiming price of $30,000 and upward, with a cap of $20,000 per horse per race.

If the New York-bred is by an out-of-state stallion or non-registered stallion, the award is up to 10% of purses earned from first through third positions in races run for a claiming price of $30,000 and upward with a cap of $20,000 per horse per race.

NEW YORK-BRED RACES

More than 45 stakes races exclusively for registered New York-breds are run at New York Racing Association racetracks (Aqueduct, Belmont Park, and Saratoga Race Course) and Finger Lakes racetrack with total purses exceeding $4-million. In 2009, more than 900 overnight races exclusively for registered New York-breds were held at the four New York racetracks.
