Debut Winner at SARATOGA Comes Full Circle for Freshman Sire Maybry's Boy

Just days after MAYBRY'S BOY's returned to Highcliff his first winner, SPORTSWRITER captured the ninth race at Saratoga on Aug. 5

Graded stakes winner MAYBRY'S BOY won the Spectacular Bid at three after breaking his maiden over 7f in 1:22 and change at two. A winner every year from 2 to 7, MAYBRY'S BOY's first six dams all produced stakes winners - including graded winning sprinters, routers, juveniles, and turf stars.

Bred and owned by Flying Zee Stable, SPORTSWRITER was bred, foaled and raised at Highcliff Farm and is trained by Carlos Martin.

Jockey Ryan Curatolo encouraged SPORTSWRITER despite his greenness through the stretch and as the 2YO continued to close in with good energy he had to recover from a drifting runner to go on and win the MdSpWt by three-quarters of a length.

Dawn of a new era

by Barry Ostrager, President
New York Thoroughbred Breeders Inc.

As this issue of New York Breeder is going to press, the Aqueduct racino is a couple of weeks away from becoming operational. This racino, constructed at a cost of nearly $400-million, is without doubt the most elaborate in America. What does this mean for New York breeders? It means that a decade of effort by our New York Thoroughbred Breeders organization to secure a share for New York breeders of what is anticipated to be an extraordinary flow of racino revenue has succeeded and will imminently be a reality.

The racino truly is a "destination" facility. Unlike any other racino in America, the Aqueduct racino has the look and feel of a major Las Vegas casino, complete with more than a half-dozen high-quality restaurants.

Moreover, it is accessible to more than 20-million people who can travel to the racino in one hour or less by car or public transportation. There can be no doubt that the Aqueduct racino, as the only legal gambling parlor within the New York City limits, will be a huge success.

The back story insofar as New York breeders are concerned is that the NYTB board and its present executive director, Jeff Cannizzo, spent countless hours forging agreements with the New York Racing Association and the New York Thoroughbred Horsemen's Association to ensure that New York breeders would have a fair share of the portion of the racino revenue that is earmarked for the Thoroughbred industry. (The bulk of the revenue, of course, is earmarked for public education and the racino operator.) And, the NYTB board and Jeff Cannizzo spent an even greater amount of time lobbying state legislators and negotiating with other industry stakeholders whose interests were not co-extensive with the interests of the breeders.

So, I can say with confidence—as well as pleasure and pride—that after ten years of declining fortunes for New York breeders, we are truly at the dawn of a new era. We expect that in 2012, the breeders' share of the racino revenue (1%) will generate an additional $6-million in payments to the New York Breeding and Development Fund for distribution to New York breeders in the form of owner, breeder, and stallion awards. This number is anticipated to increase to $8-million in 2013 (with a 1.25% share for breeders) and to $9.5-million in 2014 and thereafter (with a 1.5% share for breeders).

In addition, with the enhanced revenue that NYRA will receive for purse distribution, by 2012 New York-breds will be running for purses that may be 50% higher than present purse levels. These developments will revive our industry and make New York-breds significantly more valuable than they have ever been. We saw the first concrete evidence of this in August at the Fasig-Tipton New York-bred preferred yearling sale in Saratoga Springs, where the average price for New York-bred yearlings increased by 38.7% over last year.

All of us have been frustrated by the delays that have attended the implementation of the video lottery terminals legislation that was passed a full decade ago, but the racino is now a reality and New York breeders immediately will start benefiting from the racino revenue. Those of us who have weathered the dark days of the New York breeding industry can look forward to profitable opportunities to breed, sell, and race New York-breds.

NYRA outlines Saratoga capital plans

Menu of potential projects includes backstretch improvements and permanent frontside facilities

The New York Racing Association outlined on September 1 a menu of 21 potential capital-improvement projects for Saratoga Race Course intended to improve conditions both for workers and patrons while preserving the track's historic character.

Saratoga will be targeted for capital-improvement funds from Aqueduct video lottery terminals (VLTs) because it is most in need of remodeling. NYRA will receive 4% of revenues from the VLTs for capital improvements, an estimated $27.6-million annually.

"NYRA is deeply committed to preserving the historic fabric of Saratoga Race Course while implementing a capital-improvement strategy that will allow Saratoga to grow and flourish for years to come," NYRA President Charles Hayward said. "This menu of potential projects is designed to generate feedback from the public in order to incorporate the needs and wants of every Saratoga stakeholder, including the fans, horsemen, and general community."

NYRA's announcement began a period of public comment on the proposals, which would be implemented over five to ten years.

"The projects we choose to undertake will not be determined unilaterally," Hayward said. "We recognize that part of what makes Saratoga Race Course so special is its deep integration and embracement by the community. All of us at NYRA truly look forward to hearing from the public as we prepare to make essential and intelligent changes to bolster the fan experience and to secure the future of Saratoga. The only project not up for public debate is the much-needed improvements to the dormitories and facilities along the backstretch."

NYRA has hired Turnberry Consulting to advise it on capital improvements at Saratoga, Belmont Park, and Aqueduct.

SARATOGA from page 8

With assistance from NYRA and Turnberry, the Saratoga Springs Preservation Foundation conducted a historical analysis of Saratoga's backstretch and frontside.

Potentially the largest undertaking would be a permanent At The Rail hospitality building to replace the current At The Rail tent and the luxury suites on the clubhouse turn. The three-story building would include a 500-seat hospitality room on the ground level, 12 suites on the second level, and several party suites on the top floor. The building would include viewing patios to the track, paddock, and horse path.

Another large frontside building project would be a new hospitality building at the Top of the Stretch. The three-story structure would include a patio and bar on the ground floor, enclosed dining facilities with a viewing balcony on the second floor, and an open-air bar and balcony on the third floor.

Also under consideration are new jockey facilities, which would be adjacent to a refurbished paddock.

In addition to new dormitory facilities, the potential backstretch projects include 200 new stalls and improvements to the Oklahoma training track.—Don Clippinger

Forum looks to the new New York

The “New New York Forum: Breeding and Racing in the VLT Era” attracted a crowd of approximately 100 to the Humphrey S. Finney Pavilion in Saratoga Springs on August 13.

The event, co-sponsored by the New York Thoroughbred Breeders, featured five panelists who spoke for an hour before taking questions.

NYTB Executive Director Jeffrey Cannizzo, who emceed the event, struck a positive note in his opening remarks: “The VLT era is something we have all been waiting on for a very long time. I’m very excited about this, everyone at this table is very excited about this, and, I’m sure, everyone in the room is very excited about this. There is going to be significant change in the racing and breeding industry in New York, and it very well could affect racing and breeding nationally.”

The opening of Genting’s Resorts World Casino New York at Aqueduct this month will provide revenue for both racing and breeding in a difficult economy, both nationally and regionally. Cannizzo noted that the state has lost one-quarter of its breeding farms in the past six years; mares participating in the state’s breeding program have declined 37%; and the state’s foal crop has declined more than one-quarter.

New York Racing Association President Charles Hayward estimated that the Aqueduct VLTs could pump roughly $30-million into purses next year, a 29% increase, and Genting New York

President Michael Speller said the windfall could be even larger.

“Every top trainer will want to run at Belmont, Aqueduct, and Saratoga,” Fasig-Tipton Director of Marketing Terence Collier said. “It will have the best purse structure in the world.”

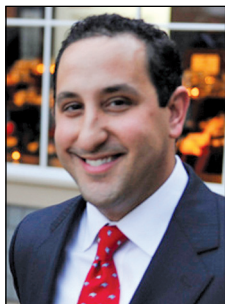

Collier said that the time was right to buy New York-breds. “The opportunity for buying yearlings in 2011 gives you the most opportunity to take advantage of the purses ahead,” he said. Apparently, the marketplace agreed.

Supporting the optimism of the panelists were the results of Fasig-Tipton’s sale of preferred New York-bred yearlings later that weekend. Fasig-Tipton reported 124 yearlings sold for a near-record $6,725,500. The total sales figure was up 83% over last year’s total of $3,676,000 for 94 yearlings sold. Average price soared 38.7% to $54,238, and median rose 16.7% to $35,000.

Collier, Hayward, and New York Thoroughbred Horsemen’s Association President Richard Violette Jr. urged New York breeders to invest the anticipated higher awards in improved breeding stock.

“We have to make [New York-breds] competitive in open company. We need more Funny Cides,” Collier said in a reference to the New York-bred dual classic winner of 2003.

NYTB Board President Barry Ostrager made brief concluding remarks, thanking the panelists for participating and underscoring the optimistic prospects for New York’s breeders.

Sharing Saratoga's bounty

Overnight average for New York-bred races exceeds meet's figure

by Don Clippinger

By most measures, the New York Racing Association's summer meeting at Saratoga Race Course was successful. All-sources wagering was down 4.6%, but the local numbers—which are much more important for NYRA's profitability than races beamed around the country—were up significantly.

On-track wagering rose 5.6% despite one fewer racing day because of Hurricane Irene, and average on-track wagering rose 8.3% to $3.1-million a day. Downstate wagering at Aqueduct and Belmont Park totaled $19.2-million, yielding an average combined local handle of $3.6-million a day, up 13.5% from 2010. Average attendance also inched up 1.8% to 22,353 daily.

As is usually true, Saratoga's purses were the best in North America, averaging $67,415 over 397 races. Del Mar had an excellent meeting and paid an 8% bonus on overnight purses to erase an underpayment, but its average purse will come in at a bit below $66,000 over 324 races. Next year, as money from the Aqueduct racino swells NYRA's purses, the upstate track should be the national leader by a wide margin.

New York-breds again played an important role in the Saratoga racing program, and they were well compensated for it. Races for native New Yorkers accounted for 20.1% of all Saratoga races, or 83 of the 397 total.

With Director of Racing P. J. Campo's condition books focused on higher-level New York-bred races, the native New Yorkers battled for an average of $49,118 per race. While the overall meet averaged $67,415 per contest, a large proportion of that money (47.6%) was devoted to stakes races. With the stakes money taken out of both categories, New York-bred overnight races averaged $43,990, slightly ahead of the $43,279 average overall.

An axiom of race conditions is that longer races pay better purses. That axiom was borne out in Saratoga's New York-bred races. Although the symmetry was not perfect, shorter races paid significantly less than longer races.

New York-bred purses totaled $4,076,800, or 15.2% of Saratoga's $26.8-million in total purses.

The New York-bred races also filled well with an average of nine starters per race, compared with 8.3 starters for all Saratoga races. These are some of the broad-picture conclusions from an analysis of Saratoga's racing program and the role that New York-breds play in it.

Conditions

Saratoga never has been regarded as a claiming track, and it staged only 13 claiming races for New York-breds, all of them for maiden claimers. They averaged a healthy $30,438 per race, although they received less than 10% of all state-bred purses. They filled 15.7% of all state-bred races and averaged ten starters per race.

Purses, field sizes increase, with more expected after opening of Aqueduct racino this fall

The maiden claimers were split between older runners and two-year-olds. Older horses filled all seven of the $20,000 maiden claimers, with two restricted to fillies and mares. Those seven races had $29,100 average purses and were well filled, with 10.6 starters per race.

Two-year-olds raced in $35,000 and $50,000 categories, with half limited to fillies. The two $35,000 claimers averaged $28,500 per race, and the $50,000 maiden claimers were worth an average of $33,750.

The core of Saratoga's racing program has long been its maiden special weight races, and that was especially true for New York-breds this year. Overall, the non-claiming maiden races were approaching one in every two races (43.4%), and the track staged 36 of its 97 maiden specials for New York-breds.

Those maiden special weight races averaged a $45,950 purse and altogether received just over 40% of all New York-bred stakes money. They also filled well with an average of 9.3 starters per race. Two-year-olds had 16 of those 36 races, with nine restricted to fillies.

Allowances, also a staple of Saratoga racing, were the second-largest category of New York-bred races, with 15 contests over the season from July 22 through September 5.

After stakes races, they had the second-highest average purse, $49,027, and they had the largest non-claiming fields, averaging 9.7 starters per race. All allowance races were for older horses, with seven of the 15 restricted to fillies and mares.

Optional claimers, in which a race offers both allowance conditions and an opportunity to run at a specified claiming price, played a relatively small role in the Saratoga program. They accounted for eight races—less than one in ten New York-bred races—and averaged $47,750. They had the second-smallest average fields with 8.4 starters per race.

The smallest fields were the New York-bred stakes races, averaging 6.7 starters over 11 contests. Those stakes paid average purses of $82,682, topping out at $101,000 for three races. Most other New York-bred stakes had $75,000 pots.

Age

Saratoga indeed has a well-deserved reputation as the launching pad for top two-year-olds, but the platform of the track's New York-bred racing program is its older horses. To be sure, two-year-olds played a significant role in the program, with 24 juvenile races overall (28.9%). Of those two-year-old races, 13 were restricted to fillies.

The two-year-old open races averaged $44,090, while the restricted races for fillies were paid an average of $44,938. Both groups averaged 8.5 starters per race.

The heart of the Saratoga season belonged to the older runners, which accounted for seven in every ten races. Only one race, the $101,000 Albany Stakes, was restricted to three-year-olds. Beginning with the Belmont spring-summer season, New York-bred three-year-olds are expected to race against their elders.

In all, older New York-breds filled 30 open races and another 28 limited to fillies and mares. The open contests paid average purses of $38,915, and the fillies and mares ran for an average of $51,398. The open races filled slightly better, 9.4 starters per race, compared with 9.2 for the females.

Distance and surface

An axiom of race conditions is that longer races pay better purses. That axiom was borne out in Saratoga's New York-bred races. Although the symmetry was not perfect, shorter races paid significantly less than longer races.

The shortest races, at five furlongs on the main track, had the lowest purses, averaging $42,000. At six furlongs, the average purse stepped up to $42,330 for 23 races. At seven furlongs, the average climbed to $48,288, and the milers averaged $53,250. For six races run at 1 1/8 miles, the average purse topped out at $65,167, although it should be noted that half of those races were stakes.

Some distances with few races or a preponderance of grass races interrupted some of the steady upward climb of purses. Of 21 races at 5 1/2 furlongs, four were run on the dirt and another four were moved from the turf to the main track. Those 5 1/2-furlong races paid average purses of $46,305 and averaged 9.3 starters. Two 6 1/2-furlong races averaged $59,500; both were on the dirt, and one was a stakes race.

Like the mile races, all of the 15 1 1/16-mile contests were on the grass. They averaged $55,400 per race and had the largest average field at 9.9 runners per contest.

Another axiom, especially in the current racing environment, is that shorter races will outnumber longer races. Of the 83 New York-bred races, only 27 were at a mile or longer, and 21 of them were on the grass.

The New York-bred races were closely split between turf and dirt. In all, 42 races were scheduled on the main track. They offered average purses of $46,731 and had 8.4 starters per race. A total of 41 races were to be run on the grass, but seven of them were moved to the main track.

The 34 races that stayed on the turf averaged a $51,779 purse and 9.9 starters per race. The seven transferred races paid a $50,514 average purse and had nine starters per race.

Individuals

Saratoga always has been a tough place to win, and only two starters, Harbor Mist and Lovely Lil, managed two victories. Both emerged from the upstate meeting with stakes victories to their credit.

Rockport Harbor, sire of two-year-old filly Harbor Mist, had four victories from three individual winners. Three stallions—Freud, Grand Reward, and Quiet American—each had three individual winners. Tiznow, sire of Lovely Lil, had two winners and three victories.

Among broodmare sires, Cure the Blues and Seattle Slew each had three individual winners. Pentelicus, broodmare sire of Lovely Lil, had two winners and three wins.

Bigger turns out to be better

Bigger Is Bettor descends from a renowned Canadian family of E. P. Taylor

by Don Clippinger

Bettors had almost no attraction to Bigger Is Bettor in Saratoga Race Course's Albany Stakes, the third leg of the Big Apple Triple, on August 24. After all, he was a maiden winner going against seasoned New York-bred three-year-olds, including New York Derby winner Socialsaul and Mike Lee Stakes victor Preachintothedevil.

Still, 26.25-to-1 is a very big price for any horse bred and owned by Mary and Chester Broman. Not every horse they breed turns out to be a stakes winner, but the longtime New York breeders have a solid track record of taking quality mares and mating them to commercial stallions.

The one factor that most bettors did not take into consideration in making their Albany picks was that Bigger Is Bettor hails from one of the finest families in the American Stud Book. True, past performance is a much more reliable yardstick of current and future performance than pedigree in the second year of a horse's career, and much of the family's quality did not reside in Bigger Is Bettor's branch.

Nonetheless, Bigger Is Bettor had every right to jump up and take a bite out of the Big Apple Triple, which he did. Ridden by Abel Lezcano, the Grand Reward colt roared through the final furlong to win the Albany by three-quarters of a length over Socialsaul, with Preachintothedevil taking third. Bigger Is Bettor ran the Albany's 1 1/4 miles in 1:51.12 on a fast track and raised his career earnings to $107,680 from nine starts.

Bigger Is Bettor is only the second winner from five foals to race out of Regal Angela, by Regal Intention, who was by Northern Dancer's top Canadian son Vice Regent. Her other winner was Stately Pegasus, a gelding by Fusiachi Pegasus who earned $116,831. A filly by Mr. Greeley, Angie Oakley, placed at three.

Grand Reward

The Bromans hit the target when they sent Regal Angela to Grand Reward, who also has impeccable breeding and is making a name for himself in regional markets. By Storm Cat and out of champion Serena's Song, by Rahy, Grand Reward was bred by Robert and Beverly Lewis and initially raced in Europe for the partnership of Michael Tabor, Susan Magnier, and Beverly Lewis.

Aidan O'Brien, who trained him, was unable to get a stakes victory with Grand Reward, who was returned to the United States for a four-year-old campaign with D. Wayne Lukas, the Lewises' longtime trainer who had trained Serena's Song.

Grand Reward rewarded the partnership with one victory, in the 2005 Oaklawn Handicap (G2), his final career win. Standing initially at John Sikura's Hill 'n' Dale Farms in Lexington, Grand Reward shuttled to Argentina and was based at Ghost Ridge Farms in Pennsylvania for a $4,000 fee this past season.

Regal Angela emerged from the very heart of Ontario breeding—the Windfields Farm of E. P. Taylor. She carried black type, from her victory in Fort Erie's restricted Bison City Stakes at three in 1998, but won only one other race in 15 starts while earning $88,262. Still, the luster of her Windfields breeding was evident, and she sold for $335,000 to the Bromans' Chestertown Farm at the 2001 Keeneland January horses of all ages sale.

Certainly, part of the attraction was Regal Angela's dam, Dancing Angela, who was a modest racehorse with one victory in six starts as a two-year-old in 1975, the only year she raced. In a long career at stud, the Dancer's Image mare proved to be a stakes producer. Regal Angela was her final foal, at age 22. Her other two stakes winners, Bejilla and Le Danseur, were from her first crops in Taylor's Canadian stud. Bejilla, a colt by Quadrangle, was her first foal and won the 1982 Dominion Day Stakes (G3) at age five.

Le Danseur, a Lord Dunham colt, won the 1981 Coronation Futurity and was second in the Cup and Saucer Stakes at age two. He finished third in the following year's Flamingo Stakes (G1) and then won a division of the Plate Trial Stakes before finishing third to winner Son of Briartic in the Queen's Plate. (The second-place finisher, Runaway Groom, upset the year's three American classic winners in the Travers Stakes [G1]).

The Queen's Plate was Le Danseur's final start before a long but very modest career at stud.

Nangela

But the real prize in the pedigree was Nangela, Bigger Is Better's third dam, and the outstanding family that flowed from her daughter Square Angel, Dancing Angela's half sister by Quad-rangle.

Nangela, by Nearctic and out of the Tim Tam mare Angela's Niece, was bred by Taylor and won the 1967 Carleton Stakes at age two. She was winless in eight starts at three and was retired to the Canadian stud.

Her first foal was Square Angel, who was Canada's champion three-year-old filly in 1973 after winning the Canadian Oaks. Nangela had seven other foals, all of whom started, but only two were winners. It was no matter, however. Square Angel would be her heritage.

Taylor bred Square Angel to Key to the Mint, and the result was the 1976 filly Kamar, who reigned as Canada's champion three-year-old filly after duplicating her dam's victory in the 1979 Canadian Oaks. In her final start, she defeated another outstanding racemare, Glorious Song, in the 1979 Duchess Stakes at Fort Erie.

Kamar proved to be one of Canada's best broodmares of all time, and she was honored as Broodmare of the Year in 1990, three years after she was sold for $2.6-million at the Hermitage Farm dispersal at the Keeneland November breeding stock sale.

For owner-breeder B. K. Yousif, she produced Key to the Moon, by Wajima, who was Canada's champion three-year-old male after winning the 1984 Queen's Plate and Aqueduct's Discovery Handicap (G3). He had a very modest career at stud.

Acquired by Hermitage's Warner L. Jones and the father-son team of Albert and Robert Clay, Kamar was bred to Bold Ruler-line stallions and produced outstanding racehorses and broodmares.

Arguably, the best of them was Robert Clay's Gorgeous, by Slew o' Gold, whose three Grade 1 victories included Keeneland Race Course's 1989 Ashland Stakes and the 1990 Vanity Invitational Handicap at Hollywood Park. At stud, the Slew o' Gold mare produced Stunning, by Nureyev, who won the 2001 Prix Imprudence in France and was Group 2-placed.

Seaside Attraction, bred by the Clays and Jones, was sold for $1,050,000 as a weanling at the Hermitage dispersal and raced for William T. Young's Overbrook Farm. The daughter of Seattle Slew out of Kamar rewarded the owner with a Kentucky Oaks (G1) victory in 1990, and then she kept on giving.

Bred to Mr. Prospector, Seaside Attraction produced Golden Attraction, the 1995 champion two-year-old filly after three Grade 1 victories. Two of Seaside Attraction's colts, Cape Town and Cape Canaveral, were graded stakes winners and had careers at stud. All of the Overbrook stakes winners were trained by Lukas.

Kamar's full sister, Love Smitten, won the 1986 Apple Blossom Handicap (G1) and was the dam of Swain (Ire), a top European racehorse who is perhaps best known for ending up on the outside rail in the 1998 Breeders' Cup Classic (G1), in which he finished third to Awesome Again.

Nangela's family is, in short, one of the finest to emerge from Canada, and Bigger Is Better is evidence that it is not advisable to bet against such quality, even when deep in the pedigree.

Sentimental win by Weemissfrankie

New York-bred two-year-old filly follows script to stay undefeated in Del Mar Debutante

by Don Clippinger

New York-breds have traveled the world to pick up Grade 1 and Group 1 victories, such as A Shin Forward's top-ranked victory in Japan late last year. Most have come closer to home, such as Mission Approved's victory in the Woodford Reserve Manhattan Handicap (G1) on June 11 at Belmont Park.

Mission Approved was the first New York-bred to collect a Grade 1 win this year, and the second, Weemissfrankie, had a decided Hollywood storyline for her score in the $250,000 Del Mar Debutante Stakes (G1) on September 3 at the San Diego-area track.

Bred by Hidden Point Farm, the two-year-old filly was foaled at Empire Stud, now Vinery New York, where her sire, Sunriver, had stood for two seasons before his death in August 2009. Offered for sale at the 2010 Ocala Breeders' Sales Co. August yearling sale, the filly was bought back on a $40,000 final bid.

Agent Eddie Woods prepared her for the OBS spring sale of two-year-olds in training in April, and she was purchased for $175,000, with Los Angeles-area resident Joe Ciaglia signing the ticket.

Then it was time to name the chestnut filly out of the Meadowlake mare Starinthemeadow. The ownership group chose Weemissfrankie to honor actor, director, and horse owner Frank Alesia, who had died February 27 at his Carlsbad, California, home at the age of 67.

Alesia had moved to Los Angeles from Park Ridge, Illinois, a Chicago suburb, in 1964, and his specialty was beach movies, including Bikini Beach (1964), Pajama Party (1964), and Beach Blanket Bingo (1965). He also appeared in Riot on the Sunset Strip (1967).

He made the transition into television and appeared in such series as "That Girl;" "Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C.;" "The Odd Couple;" "Room 222;" "The Flying Nun;" and "Laverne & Shirley," for which he both wrote and directed beginning in 1980. He also was a director for "Captain Kangaroo" and was nominated for a daytime Emmy in 1979.

After his years in show business, Alesia concentrated on Thoroughbred ownership and breeding.

The filly's ownership group, which includes Alesia's widow, Sharon, had never paid that much for a horse, but they followed the advice of California-based bloodstock agent Larry Zap to purchase the daughter of Sunriver.

"This is my first graded win in 11 years," Ciaglia told the San Diego Times Union. "The crazy thing is not having Frank with us. But we know he's here with us. That's the first thing I think about, all the love and caring Frank put into the horse business."

The ownership group, which also includes Mike Mellen's Bran Jam Stables, professional skateboarder and MTV personality Rob Dyrdek, and Nick Cosato, placed the filly with Peter Eurton, a former jockey who has been training horses in California since 1985.

The Debutante was by far the biggest career victory for Eurton, a longtime friend of Frank Alesia. "I've never won a Group 1, or a group race of any kind, for that matter," Eurton said.

Benoit & Associates photos

"This means a lot to me, but more for the [ownership] group."

Weemissfrankie had flashed her speed on Del Mar's opening day, July 20, when she made her first career start in a five-furlong maiden special race on the Polytrack surface. In the back of the field early under Rafael Bejarano, the filly trailed by five lengths after a half-mile but streaked through the final furlong to win by a half-length in a track-record :58.39.

Eurton then prepared her for the seven-furlong Debutante with a series of four sharp workouts. The plan for the Debutante was to lay off the pace but not as far back as in the maiden race. She went postward as the 2.40-to-1 favorite in the field of ten.

Weemissfrankie raced in midpack for the first half-mile, swung to the outside at the head of Del Mar's stretch, seized the lead before the furlong pole, and held off late-charging longshot Self Preservation to win by 1¼ lengths in 1:23.20.

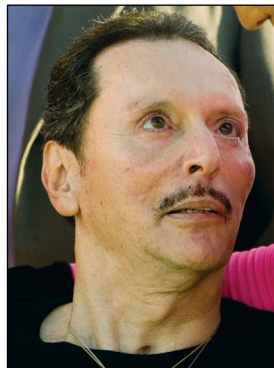

"I knew I had the best horse and rode her that way," Bejarano said. "She was strong today, much more up in the race. That last start on opening day, she was a first-time starter, and we were way back. But [in the Debutante] we were up in the race all the way."

Eurton also was pleased with the race.

"She's got a lot of class, and the mental part about her is so strong," Eurton said. "Nothing bothers her, at least not yet. Hopefully, we can go to where we want to go with her."

The first stop is likely to be Santa Anita Park's $250,000 Oak Leaf Stakes (G1) at 1¼ miles on October 2 on Santa Anita's refurbished dirt track. Ultimately, the goal is the $2-million Grey Goose Breeders' Cup Juvenile Fillies (G1) on November 4 at Churchill Downs.

"It's still a tough road to follow," Eurton said. "We'll have to see how she handles the Santa Anita dirt. I could always try her on the grass as well. There's turf in her pedigree."

EXPLANATION OF INDEXES

Racing Index (RI)

RI is based on the average earnings per start for all runners in the United States, Canada, England, Ireland, France, Italy, Germany, Puerto Rico, and United Arab Emirates. RI is determined by calculating the average earnings per start, divided into males and females, of all starters in each individual country, and the average for each individual year is by definition 1.00. Median RI, however, is much lower. Actual distribution of RI is detailed below.

Sire Index (SI)

The Sire Index (SI) is an average of the Racing Index (RI) of all foals by a sire that have started at least three times. For SI to be calculated, a sire must be represented by a minimum of three crops and 25 starters lifetime.

AUCTION INFORMATION

Auction information is for North American sales from 1980 to the present and includes the following:

- Subject horse (stakes winner): All auction activity—yearling, yearling, two-year-olds in training, or horses of racing age sales—found after the winner's name under the first dam.
- Sire of stakes winner: The sire's lifetime and current year yearling auction information is reported, with number of crops offered at yearling sales (lifetime), number of yearlings sold

(lifetime), and average price (lifetime, including yearlings sold in current year), followed by information for the current year. (Current year information is reported beginning October 1; current year information from January 1 through September 30 is in the previous year's auction information.)

• Dam of stakes winner: most recent sale, either as weanling, yearling, or two-year-old in training. Also reported is most recent sale as broodmare (including covering sire) or broodmare prospect, plus any sale of the dam while subject horse was in utero (including covering sire).

PEDIGREE SYMBOLS

Symbols preceding or following names of horses in pedigrees are used to identify horses that were imported into North America for racing or breeding, and to indicate country of birth. Equal signs preceding a horse's name indicate that a horse was foaled outside the U.S. or Canada and has never been imported to North America; a horse's country of birth appears in parentheses following its name. An asterisk preceding a horse's name indicates the horse was born outside the U.S. or Canada and was imported to North America prior to 1976 (no country codes are included for such horses). Names of horses imported since 1976 include a country code in parentheses following their name and are not preceded by equal signs. Horses that do not have a symbol preceding their name or a country code following their name were foaled in North America.

The accompanying list reports sires of New York-bred winners and winners by sires standing in New York in 2011, three-year-olds and upward, of all recent races, except straight claiming races. The second list reports sires of all New-York bred juvenile winners in the same time period. The lists are presented alphabetically by sire, followed in parentheses by the number of current-year starters in North America for the sire and the sire's total number of individual winners in 2011, regardless of state where bred. Following the sire information is the name of the winner's dam. The name of the winner is in light face capital letters (bold face capital letters if the win came in a stakes race), followed by the winner's sex, age, name of racetrack, and date of race. The class of the race in which the victory took place immediately follows. Abbreviations used for class of race are similar to those used by Equibase: Alw—allowance; Hcp—overnight handicap; names of stakes races are spelled out, with the grade of the race, when applicable, in parentheses. Class of race is followed by the distance of the race, expressed in furlongs and fractions of furlongs, followed by first-place money earned by the winner.
